APPROACH REPLACEMENT is underway on the east approach of the McKinley Bridge in Venice. Guardrails and concrete guttering are removed to allow the old deck of the bridge to be lifted off. Reinforced concrete piers which have held the deck surface will be removed and an earth fill will be used to support the new deck. Completion of the project is expected in late December. Limited use of the approach may be as early as October.

Collection—key to avoiding city ambulance tax

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City's new emergency ambulance service is operating at a pace far exceeding original estimates, a factor that should guarantee continued operation of the service without levying a tax rate for that purpose, Fire Chief Don Parente said Friday as the ambulance service neared the end of the second month of operation.

Parente said a total of 350 calls for ambulance service had been received by the city service as of Friday, with another week of the two-month operating period still remaining.

On this basis he said, the number of calls for service is running 33 per cent over operational estimates made when the service first was initiated on March 15.

When municipal officials first decided to establish a city-operated ambulance service — to meet the problem resulting from announcement by a privately-owned ambulance firm that it intended to cut back the number of ambulance units it was operating — it was estimated the city units would receive approximately 1,800 calls per year, or 150 a month (five per day).

Based on the fee schedule established by ordinance, this would provide revenue of about $90,000 per year to help finance operations of the city ambulance service.

On the basis of operations during nearly two months, Parente noted, total ambulance calls for the year could approximate 2,400, nearly seven a day, with projected revenue from fees of about $120,000, assuming that fees are collected at 100 per cent.

The private firm had cited a low percentage of collection in its operations, making them unprofitable and leading to the curtailment decision.

At the moment, there is no way of determining what extent of fee collections can be achieved by the city, Chief Parente said.

It takes from six weeks to two months to establish accounts with insurance companies, public aid agencies, Medicare and other assistance programs from which collections must be made in many cases, he related.

"We have been told that it usually takes seven or eight weeks to clear the first accounts.

"But, from then on, we will receive payments on a monthly basis, particularly in cases in which we depend upon public agencies for payment," the fire chief said.

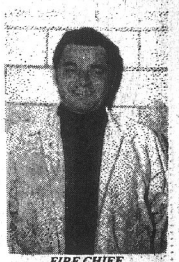

Billings from the Granite City ambulance service now are made by St. Elizabeth Hospital but payments are made directly to the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens.

Parente said records of all calls are given to St. Elizabeth Hospital, which prepares the billings on a weekly basis, directed to the individuals or the responsible public agencies or insurance firms. The hospital provides this service without charge to the municipality.

"It is up to us (the city) to collect and we are working out a system of followup billings or other methods of assuring payment in all cases where it is possible to do so," the chief explained.

The city ambulance service is being provided without cost to taxpayers generally, either

Steel wages up—debate price hike

Granite City Steel has put into effect another cost-of-living increase for its employes, effective for the pay period starting May 1.

Hourly employes will receive an upward cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) of 13 cents an hour.

This is in addition to the previous 14 cents an hour "rolled in" to base rates on May 1 — and on top of Aug. 1, 1975, and Aug. 1, 1976, COLA "rollins" of 73 cents and 32 cents an hour, respectively.

Salaried people will get an additional $22.49 a month, and their previous $24.22 per month cost-of-living adjustment was rolled in to base salaries May 1.

These are in addition to previous cost-of-living increases of $126.29 on Aug. 1, 1975, and $55.36 on Aug. 1, 1976, that were rolled in to the salaries.

The latest cost-of-living adjustment is based on the government's Consumer Price Index as of March 1976.

On and off the record

Jimmy Carter Dam

As it had indicated earlier, the Carter administration is seeking to have a voice in steel price trends. The President was described yesterday as urging increases of less than the 6.8 to 8.8 per cent range announced Friday by two firms.

Republic Steel and Lykes Corp. (Youngstown Sheet and Tube) boosted prices on flat-rolled products by 8.8 per cent and bar products by 6.8 per cent. Many steel firms have been considering raising prices and are believed likely to act this week.

Charles Schultze, economic advisor to Pres. Carter, said Sunday the administration is trying to persuade major

Jobless decrease

"Happy days are here again . . ."

So goes the song, and so goes the current employment trend.

Unemployment in the Illinos sector of the St. Louis metropolitan area decreased in April from 6.4 to 6.3 per cent, Illinois Labor Department statistics showed Friday.

"We're leaving the recession behind us," an ILD official said. Statewide joblessness dropped from 5.5 to 5.2 per cent last month, with the Chicago area improving from 5.1 to 4.9.

Every metropolitan are except Rock Island-Moline showed an unemployment drop, and the April increase there was from 4.2 per cent to 4.3.

Current jobless figures include 5.9 per cent in Decatur, 4.2 per cent in Peoria, 3.4 in Urbana and 3.2 per cent in Bloomington.

Nationally, unemployment fell from 7.3 to seven per cent, or 6,700,000, the lowest since

Indictment in shooting

John F. Nunes, 48, of 2134 Delmar Ave., was indicted by a Madison County grand jury Thursday afternoon on a charge of involuntary manslaughter for allegedly fatally shooting Edward Robertson, 19, of 2936 Denver St., behind Nunes' home May 1.

Evidence gathered during a police investigation into the shooting indicated Robertson and another youth may have been in Nunes' back yard attempting to siphon gasoline from Nunes' pickup truck, detectives said.

The detectives also alleged Nunes has given them a statement saying he fired from three to five shots with a .22 caliber pistol near the two boys, but "fired low" to scare them.

Police said they found an empty gallon milk jug and four spent bullets in Nunes' driveway, and a piece of garden hose in the yard next door.

Police said they believe the two youths climbed over the fence behind Nunes' home since the rear gate to the driveway

When it comes to making ridiculous points . . .

A 66-62 favorable Illinois House vote was recorded Friday for a plan to require readers to pay a three-cent refundable deposit for each newspaper issue.

The amendment was added to a bill which would order deposit payments on sales of beer and soft drink bottles and cans.

Rep. Daniel Pierce (D, Highland Park), sponsor of the "bottle bill," opposed the amendment as a "cute" and "funny" attempt to kill the bottle deposit proposal. He noted that for a reader to get back his deposit, he or she would have to "return the entire issue to the distributor as it was sold."

Those failing to charge such a deposit would be subject to a fine of up to $1,000 and a prison term of up to one year.

Rep. Joseph Ebbesen (R, DeKalb), said, "I wanted to illustrate the ridiculousness of focusing in on one industry." Many said they felt that he had made just such a point, and called his amendment ridiculous.

Weather outlook

Mostly sunny today with high about 70. Cool tonight with low in mid-40s. A little warmer Tuesday with high in the mid-70s. Partly cloudy Wednesday through Friday with scattered showers and thunderstorms. Highs in the 70s and lows in the 50s during the period.

Plan local area health committee

Local impact committees will be organized at a meeting of the general assembly of the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency on Saturday, May 14, at the Mudd Building (Law School) of Washington University, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Mary Lee, director of community development and health education for the Health Systems Agency, said the local impact committees are being formed to provide on-going grassroots involvement in the activities of the agency.

"Once formed, they will meet within their respective communities to explore solutions to local health care problems — and will provide a widening circle of participation in health planning for the region.

"I see these committees as a challenge to area residents to take responsibility for how health resources are allocated in their communities," Miss Lee added.

The general assembly is the general membership body of the organization and is open to any resident of the region who is 18 years of age or older.

The meeting is free and open to anyone interested in learning more about the general

Rider mowers require caution

By DARLENE HERR
Associate Madison County Home Economics Advisor

Several million lawn and garden tractors and riding rotary power mowers are in use around the United States this summer.

But with the rapid upswing in small tractor and riding mower usage comes an increase in disabling, handicapping and fatal injuries.

The Accident Prevention Laboratory at the University of Iowa studied mowing accidents to learn what kinds of accidents happen and to make suggestions on avoiding them.

Here's a sampling of their findings:

—A three-year-old boy was killed when his mother backed over him while mowing with a small tractor on their farmstead. Back-over accidents account for 10 to 15 per cent of the cases in the Iowa study.

It's springtime—time for a 'break'

By LIL SQUAW

Coffee breaks and jamborees are in the planning stages all over the area.

A jamboree is an event. CBer's will travel hundreds of miles to attend a jamboree.

They go for lots of reasons. They go to learn about new equipment, win prizes and buy things. There are always neat things to buy at a jamboree.

CBer's have a thing for patches, buttons and name tags. Clubs all have their own vests and they love to outdo each other with crazy patches and buttons.

They generally have games and cakewalks at such at a jamboree, but the favorite one of them all is the jailhouse.

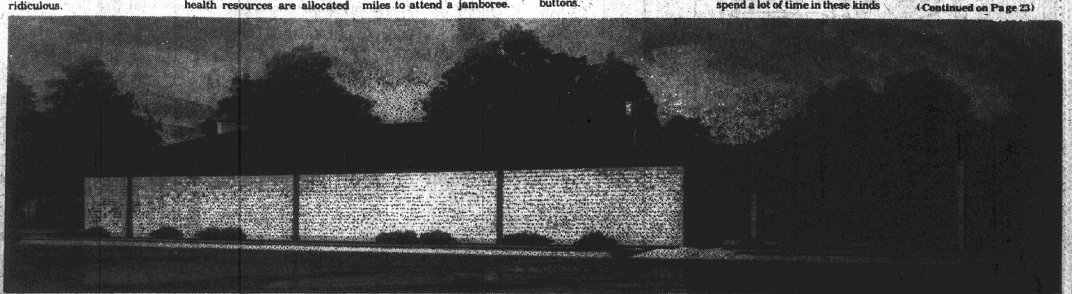

For a small fee, you can have anyone you have a mind to put in "jail." Some people I know spend a lot of time in these kinds of jails.

You can find anything you might be looking for in the way of CB goodies at a jamboree. Dealers set up booths, and new equipment is on display.

You look, and then file it in your wish book.

But most of all, jamborees are fun. You meet CBer's from

Craftsmen applying for art-craft fair

Applications are now being accepted for craftsmen in all media who are interested in participating in the fifth annual Fine Arts and Crafts Fair in mid-July at the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"Craftsmen should submit their applications by June 1 in order to be considered," said Jackie Levy, Crafts Fair coordinator.

"Fair participants will be chosen by a jury of professional craftsmen and art educators. All media, including clay, fiber, wood, metal, glass, leather, graphics and painting, are eligible.

"Entries should be mailed with five slides or photos, plus a resume," said Mrs. Levy.

"Payment of $20 per space desired should be mailed with the entry. If the application is not accepted, the money will be returned, and all applicants will be notified by June 15.

"A self-addressed stamped envelope must be included if the photos are to be returned."

The fee for the event, scheduled July 16 and 17, covers 50 square feet of space under one of several large tents and includes electricity for demonstrations.

Free tickets for the participants to the Festival performances on the two evenings involved are included.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will be performing on July 16 and the Symphony will be doing an evening of Rodgers and Hammerstein on July 17, featuring Gordon MacRae.

FACULTY ACTION. Dr. Robert Hildebrand, president of the Faculty Organization for Collective Bargaining, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, posts a copy of the U.S. Constitution's First Amendment to the door of the law office of Ivan Elliott Jr. The FOCB picketed in Elliott's hometown of Carmi during the past week to protest his alleged opposition to collective bargaining for faculty members. Elliott is vice-chairman and a former chairman of the SIU Board of Trustees. Dressed in a cap and gown, Hildebrand led a procession from the law office to a business with which Elliott is associated.

FIRE DESTROYS CAR

Fire destroyed the auto of Scott Clark, Edwardsville, parked on the side of Route 3 near West Pontoon Road last week. The cause of the fire could not be determined. Firemen were there 37 minutes. The car fire was the second within a few days along Route 3, leading authorities to suspect arson. Clark's car was valued at about $600.

Claim for back pay studied

The Granite City Council has requested its attorneys to study a request by former Manpower employe James Dunn for about $3,600 in back pay he feels is due him from when he was employed in the city's Fire Department.

Dunn was employed under Manpower in the Fire Department when Manpower ruled late last year that Manpower employes should be paid the same as regular firemen, since some regular firemen received automatic raises at the end of their probationary period, even though they were employed after the Manpower employes.

Under Manpower guidelines, when an employe with less seniority than the Manpower workers receives a raise, the pay of the Manpower employes must be raised equal to that of the employes with less seniority.

The city would have been required to pay the difference between the $833 per month maximum Manpower would pay and the approximately $1,050 per month some firemen make, in order to comply, Fire Chief Don Parente was told.

Manpower officials were consulted and ruled the city had 120 days to bring the Fire Department into compliance with the rule.

The six Manpower employes were kept at the same salary for 120 days and were dismissed Feb. 26, the deadline date.

In a letter to the City Council, Dunn said he feels the city violated Manpower rules in not elevating his pay to equal that of promoted firemen from about 18 months until his dismissal Feb. 26.

He said he discussed the issue with City Attorney George Filcoff and Filcoff advised him to file a suit against the city, if he felt he had a claim.

Instead, Dunn said, he wrote a letter to the council explaining his claim and adding, "It should not take the time and expense of a suit to determine that. And I assume the members of the council to be a group of men fair and just."

The council referred the letter to its Fire and Water Committee for study and a recommendation.

Fire Chief Don Parente said he does not feel Dunn has a claim against the city, saying, "We asked Manpower what to do and did exactly that. I think we did comply with Manpower guidelines." He noted any settlement with Dunn could open the door for other past Manpower employes to make similar claims.

I-270 extension

While the new state road program totaling $512 million omits this region in the list of major freeway projects, it does include $37,280,000 to be spent in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe Counties to extend Interstate 270.

Governor James R. Thompson said Thursday he is proposing — for 1977-78 — land acquisition, dredging, grading sand drains, archeology salvage, utility adjustments and seven grade separations for I-270.

The circumferential route around the St. Louis metropolitan area currently lacks the southeastern portion of the highway circle.

The new program mainly emphasizes rehabilitation of Illinois' existing highways and streets.

The state's road improvement program, the second largest in the nation, is $31 million less than last year's announced program. The New York road program, the largest, exceeds Illinois' by $38 million.

The Illinois July 1977-June 1978 road program will create an estimated 47,000 jobs, Gov. Thompson believes.

"The proposed road program is a prudent one which uses all available resources for repair and construction in the coming year, while enabling the state to pay the bills for $438 million in road repairs now under way," the governor said.

"This program also is aimed at helping protect the $50 billion investment in our present roads and streets by stressing repair or reconstruction of these facilities."

The proposed $512,400,000 road plan is comprised of $280,600,000 in federal funds, $70 million in state road funds, $100 million from state Series A transportation bonds and $49,800,000 in local or other agency funds.

An additional $12 million will be provided from pending legislation or Series A bond funds, he said.

A major objective of the program is the repair or replacement of bridges on both state and local road systems — bridges that for the most part were built during the early 1900s.

Repair or replacement of 281 bridges is scheduled. In addition, 14 bridges or overpasses on the Interstate highway system will be rehabilitated.

"An additional 300 bridges on township systems will be brought up to modern, safe standards," Gov. Thompson said, "when the General Assembly approves pending legislation."

During 1977-78, a total of 525 miles of roads will be widened and resurfaced, rebuilt or constructed.

A $97 million Interstate highway program will be undertaken, with the major work on the East St. Louis Bypass, Interstate 270; the Peoria South Bypass, Interstate 474; and Interstate 55 between Chicago and here.

The Illinois Interstate system will be 98 per cent complete or under contract by the end of 1977-78, compared with the 94 per cent completion of the national system.

Completion or continuation of supplemental freeway sections now under way will total $45 million during the year.

Major projects included in this work are construction on the North-South U.S. 51 freeway (FAP 412) south of Rockford; projects on the Galesburg to Monmouth freeway (FAP 404) and construction and land acquisition on the Central Illinois Expressway (FAP 408) between Jacksonville and Quincy.

A total of 470 miles of other major highways, arterial streets and farm-to-market roads will be rehabilitated at a cost of more than $270 million.

The 1977-78 safety program to correct high hazard locations and improve railroad grade crossings will total $24.5 million.

nearly $13 million is allocated for improvement of railroad-highway crossings on state and local roads, a major increase for railroad grade crossings over the $7.5 million available during 1976-77.

In summary, highlights of the new program include:

— New construction and improvement of 39 miles of Interstate highways and 14 bridges and overpasses on the Interstate system.

— Construction of eight miles of new Supplemental Freeway; grading on an additional six miles and resurfacing of eight miles.

Major projects: North-South Freeway (FAP 412) south of Rockford; continuation of construction on the Galesburg to Monmouth Freeway (FAP404).

Construction and land acquisition on the Central Illinois Expressway between Jacksonville and Quincy, including completion of the freeway from east of Jacksonville to north of Winchester.

Land acquisition and construction on a segment of the East St. Louis to Carlyle portion of freeway (FAP 409) between Illinois 4 and U.S. 50; and construction and land acquisition on Illinois 1 between Crossville and Interstate 64.

— Improvement and construction on 470 miles of non-interstate highways. This includes the widening and resurfacing of 380 miles of rural roads.

— Replacement and rehabilitation of 281 bridges on all highway systems. This includes 100 bridges off state highways under a new federal program, for which the release of federal funds is anticipated during the coming year.

— Safety improvements throughout the state, with emphasis on railroad grade crossing improvements. Nearly $13 million is shown for railroad grade crossing work.

$1 weekly summer bus pass for young people

Colorful iron-on "Superpass" patches will signal the return this summer of the Bi-State Development Agency's $1 weekly bus pass for all young people age 19 and under, Executive Director Robert J. Baier said during the weekend.

The patches will be available at most pass outlets during the week of May 30 to June 4, when sales will begin for the first week's Superpass, valid June 6-12.

The Superpass program will continue through Labor Day, Sept. 5.

An average of 7,000 persons per week took advantage of the transit opportunities provided by Superpass in 1976, Baer said.

Once purchased, the pass will entitle the holder to an unlimited number of rides on regular Bi-State local, Rapid, Express, Shopper Express and Orbit buses without having to pay base fares or additonal zone or transfer charges.

Superpass is not valid on Bi-State special service routes — the St. Louis Shuttle, Race Track Express, Muny Opera Express, Red Bird Express, Big Red Express and Six Flags Express.

"Response to the Superpass program last year was excellent," Baer noted. "We have received many letters from passengers who used the pass going to and from summer jobs, for recreational outings, or just to discover the metropolitan St. Louis area.

"One young man told us he would head out every morning and spend the entire day riding our various routes — quite a bargain for $1."

Superpass is valid on all of Bi-State's 159 regular bus lines in Missouri and Illinois.

Superpass will be sold at many regular Bi-State Weekly Pass outlets in Missouri and Illinois.

In addition, numerous schools holding summer sessions and various community organizations have agreed to sell Superpass. Purchasers will be asked to provide proof of age.

While in effect, Superpass will replace the 10-ride student ticket in Missouri and the Illinois Student Identification Card. Both of these programs will resume after Labor Day.

Regular Weekly Pass sales will continue throughout the summer.

For information regarding Superpass and where it can be purchased, Quad-Cityans may call 875-4144.

Damage, loot 2 vehicles

Two men who returned to their vehicles after fishing from the Cloniko Boat Landing, Rural Route One, Box 1203, Granite City, Thursday, discovered the vehicles had been damaged and looted.

The damage and loss to the auto of Larry Strader, 2906 Saratoga Ave., was estimated at $1,200. The trunk was pried open and damaged; the vents and front, rear and right side windows were broken; the hood was partially torn off and bent in the middle; taillights were broken, and there were numerous dents and scratches in the trunk lid and right rear fender.

Stolen from the trunk were tools and the jack.

The pickup truck and camper of Leslie Williams, East Alton, parked nearby, also was damaged and looted with the loss estimated at $800. A cooler and spare tire were taked from the vehicle.

Indictment

was closed and padlocked.

After the shooting, Robertson and a 16-year-old boy fled over the fence and down the alley until Mr. Robertson dropped behind 2146 Delmar Ave., and was without signs of life when he was found.

Police questioned the juvenile boy and several other persons in the area before going to Nunes' home to question him.

Officers alleged Nunes admitted shooting a gun and gave them a .22 caliber pistol he allegedly used. He was arrested but was released the following morning on orders of Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron, who said he wanted a grand jury to consider the case.

After the grand jury indictment Thursday afternoon, a warrant was issued to rearrest Nunes and Nunes appeared Friday before Circuit Judge William Beatty who set his bond at $25,000, the amount suggested by the grand jury.

Nunes requested a jury trial and the date for that trial is to be set during the June 6 docket call in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

An autopsy indicated Mr. Robertson died as the result of one .22 caliber bullet which struck his back. An inquest is to be scheduled to determine the cause of death.

Collection

through a special tax rate or use of general revenue funds, at least for the first year, Parente pointed out.

He noted that the major part of the cost — the payroll for 18 emergency medical technicians — is being borne this year by the Madison County Manpower program.

Seventy per cent of the cost of four ambulances purchased by the city to institute the ambulance service was paid with a federal grant received through the Illinois Department of Public Health and the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The city's share of acquiring the four ambulances, including the cost of installing radio equipment, was $24,000, an amount that will be paid out of ambulance service fees.

The service charged $50 per call for ambulance service inside the city limits for a patient who is a resident of Granite City.

If a Granite City resident is picked up outside the city limits, or is transported to a hospital or other point outside the city, the cost is $50 plus $1 per "loaded mile" from the point where the patient was picked up.

A non-resident, whether picked up in or out of the city, is charged $70 plus $1 per loaded mile from the point of pickup.

Edwardsville, which is one of the only other two Madison County communities with ambulance services operated by fire departments, charges a stiffer fee.

An Edwardsville resident picked up anywhere within the township (because the township contributes to the ambulance program) is charged a fee of $55.

But a patient picked up in Madison County, outside of the Edwardsville township limits, is charged $85.

The cost is increased by $20 if the patient is taken to a hospital or other point outside of the county.

A patient picked up outside Edwardsville township and transported, for example, to a Belleville hospital could pay a $105 charge for the ambulance call.

Collinsville, the other community which has an ambulance service operated by its fire department, charges a fee of $40 to a resident picked up inside the city limits, and charges $55 to a patient picked up outside the city limits.

An additional $10 is charged for transportation to a hospital outside the county.

Both the Edwardsville and Collinsville services, like that in Granite City, are financed by revenue received from fees and has no special tax rate.

Parente said that the city is attempting to avoid use of a special tax rate, which could be levied up to 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The fire chief denied any "political implications" to a notation which he issued to the EM" drivers and ambulance attendants that it was not necessary to call Thomas Ambulance Service for assistance. He said the order was issued only as a means of saving time in handling ambulance calls.

Thomas Ambulance Service which announced its service cutback that resuted in establishment of the city ambulance service, offered "backup service" to the new city service at its beginning in mid-March.

Parente said a loss of time has been involved in some instances in which the city department has convéyed calls to Thomas, as well as in some instances in which calls came from the Thomas service to the city department.

"I thought it was better that we act directly on calls wherever possible," Parente said.

"I issued a directive to that effect and posted it in our offices at the hospital (where one of the ambulances is based)."

According to Chief Parente, the directive was removed from the board and disappeared.

He said the directive was the document referred to — as a "letter" — by Daniel Partney, candidate for mayor in the April city election and a member of the Thomas Ambulance firm, during a discussion at last week's City Council session.

In that meeting, Partney said he had a "letter" written by Parente in which he directed drivers and attendants not to call the Thomas firm for assistance, and said he "hoped" the letter was not of political implication.

Partney said at that time that he believed the city should adhere to its "agreement" with the Thomas firm in the handling of ambulance calls.

It was asserted by Alderman Sam Whitmer, serving as mayor proptem, that there was no agreement between the Thomas firm and the city.

Partney's suggestion was referred to the council's Traffic Committee for further discussion.

Sanitary district given manpower grant of $376,688

Approximately 50 workers will be employed by the Madison County sector of the Metro-East Sanitary District under a $376,688 grant by the Madison County Manpower Development Program.

Russell Robinson, president of the sanitary district board of trustees, said the grant will permit maintenance improvements on the Hartford Canal and the Nameoki ditch.

Robinson said a grant by the St. Clair County Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of about $75,000 also is expected by the district to employ 24 workers who would be used to dredge Harding ditch.

The Madison County Portion of the sanitary district lies in Granite City, Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships.

Dan Churovich, director of the Madison County Manpower program, said the employes, which will be hired by his office and then assigned to the sanitary district, will be paid the same as other district employes up to $10,000 per year.

An additional 100 employes may become available to the district later to be paid from special project funds which Churovich said have not yet been received.

According to Robinson the Madison County funds will enable the district to employ four foremen, eight leadmen and 38 laborers. In St. Clair County a crane operator, an oiler and 22 laborers would be hired.

Robinson said the maintenance jobs that will be permitted with the Manpower funds will permit work the district would be otherwise unable to do because of a lack of employes.

Some school workers to lose '77 unemployment insurance

School employes who will be returning to their jobs in the fall will not be able to collect unemployment insurance this summer, according to Don Hamner, unemployment insurance manager of the Granite City office.

Legislation passed in October by Congress specifically denies benefits to school employes covered by supplementary unemployment assistance if they have "reasonable assurance" of returning to their jobs when the new school term begins.

Previously, only teaching, administrative and research personnel were denied benefits between terms.

James C. Hutchins, administrator of the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security, stressed that the state is required to administer the new law.

"Since this is a federal program, federal law determines the eligibility requirement," he said. "In the past years, teachers and administrative personnel have been excluded from collecting benefits between terms, but non-professional employes such as bus drivers and cafeteria workers have been eligible. This year, that has changed."

In 1978, SUA will be eliminated and school employes will be covered by state programs. The Illinois legislature must decide the question of school employe eligibility during the current legislative session, Hutchins said.

Fewer road deaths

Rural fatalities continue to show a decline in Illinois. Provisional figures released by Lynn E. Baird, superintendent, State Police, indicate that this year to date, 323 persons died on Illinois highways due to traffic accidents, a decrease of 14 from last year.

There were 141 fatalities in Illinois during April.

Troopers in, District 11, Maryville, commanded by Captain Albert J. Bertagnolli, investigated 340 April traffic accidents resulting in six fatalities. To date this year, District 11 has had 34 rural fatalities, down 16 from the same period in 1976.

"In order to further reduce accidents, we must also be concerned with city driving," the captain said today. "There are numerous intersections that we drive through each day — many hazardous.

"Follow these five rules for intersection safety:

1. "Know your laws pertaining to intersections and know what you are going to do.
2. "Show your intentions. Signal 100 feet in advance of the intersection and 200 feet in rural areas.
3. "Slow down for all intersections. Poise your foot over the brake pedal; this eliminates reaction time and you can stop sooner.
4. "Never assume that the other driver is going to stop at the stop sign or red light.
5. "Always be alert for pederstrians," Capt. Bertagnolli advised.

Venice advisory units to meet

Title I and Title VII Advisory Council members will meet Thursday at 10:20 a.m. in the Venice School Library according to Mrs. Verla Arnold and Mrs. Charlotte Dilday, co-chairmen. Reports concerning the progress of the basic and pilot programs for the third quarter of this school year will be heard. Further information will be given regarding funding for the basic and pilot programs for 1977-78.

The staff members of the pilot program will accompany the sophomore English students on a trip to the Shasta Soda Co. and the junior high students to Continental Bakery Co. in line with the objective dealing with career education.

The basic staff members will give post tests to the Title VII reading and math students to aid in the evaluation.

Members of the council are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith, Mrs. Linda Freeman, Sister Bernadette, Mrs. Eddie Barbee, Mrs. Ila Fleig, Mrs. Rosalyn Johnson, Mrs. Venus Gardner, Mrs. Irene Taylor, Joyce Woods, Mrs. Bettie Green, Terri Koelker, Sallie Blakely, Linda Crawford, Bessie Mae Cooper, Charlesetta Dorsey, Wm. M. Townsend, Joyce Odom.

Two charged in beating

Stephen Harris, 27, of 901 W. Chain of Rocks Road, lot M, Mitchell, and Cheryl L. Norton Coy, 18, of 4112 Kaseberg Lane, Pontoon Beach, have been charged with aggravated battery in connection with the beating of Gary Hudson, 2445 Cleveland Blvd., at Hudson's home early Thursday.

Mrs. Coy was arrested at her home at 8 p.m. Thursday and Harris was arrested at his home at 11:45 a.m. Friday.

They were allegedly among five persons who forced their way into the home and beat him with a pipe or club.

He suffered possible broken ribs, cuts to his head and right shoulder and multiple bruises to his back from the beating and was hospitalized.

Mrs. Coy was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond and Harris was released on a $15,000 recognizance bond.

STUDENTS ON RIVER FEST ADVISORY BOARD

Larry Heagy and Brian Konzen, both of Granite City, students at Granite City High School South, are members of the High School Advisory Board for this summer's Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"We're finding that the board has been very useful to us this season," says Festival Director Lyle Ward. "And in much more than just programming input. We have used the board's advice on items ranging from what kind of tee-shirt to order for this summer's Festival to how to reach the high school age audience with information about the MRP."

Scott open house

Air Force Thunderbirds and Army Golden Knights will perform at the annual open house May 28 at Scott Air Force Base.

Noted for their precision aerial maneuvers, the Thunderbirds will climax the open house activities with a 3 p.m. performance.

Earlier, the equally famous Golden Knights parachute team will demonstrate its competition parachute skills at 2 p.m.

The Golden Knights have held as many as 98 of a possible 128 international competition parachuting records and have produced three world and 10 national parachuting champions.

Scott will open at 10 a.m. on May 28 for visitors.

The world's largest aircraft, the C-5, and the Air Force's flying hospital, the C-9, as well as a myriad of other Air Force, Navy and Marine aircraft will be on display.

Air Force Security Police working dogs and radio-controlled model airplanes also will perform.

Scott's Band of Mid-America will provide a spectrum of musical entertainment — from country western to patriotic and contemporary music.

The entire day is open to the public, and refreshments will be available.

Prather band concert

Prather Junior High School Band will present its annual spring concert at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Prather JHS gymnasium.

The public is invited to attend and admission is free. Mary Ann Davis, instrumental music director, will conduct the band.

A flute ensemble, consisting of Kenna Corzine, Kay Herman and Karen Cook, will be featured in the number, "Dance of Reed Flutes" by Tschaikovsky.

Tim Passig will play a cornet solo and Pam Box, performing on the snare drum, will be accompanied by Kay Herman on flute.

Other selections to be presented include:

The American Festival March by Jerry Novak; Panorama USA by James Ployhar; Feelings by Morris Albert; Jessamine Station by Jim Curnow; and Yellow Rose of Texas, also by Ployhar.

Senior festival day

In celebration of Older Americans Month, all senior volunteers and seniors from Granite City are to attend a Senior Festival Day on May 24 at the Belleville Square, sponsored by Belleville Area College's Programs and Services for Older Persons.

There will be a number of booths with arts and crafts and baked goods on sale in the square. Items sold will be furnished by volunteers.

Proceeds from the Granite City Seniors will go to support the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), whose office is located in the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave.

A bus will be provided, free of charge, on May 24. It will leave the YMCA here at 9 a.m. and return about 3 p.m.

For lunch, a limited amount of box lunches will be available free to seniors. For persons under 60, there will be a $1.50 charge. Or, there are eating establishments within walking distance of the square.

Reservations for those planning to attend and/or requesting box lunches must be made by May 19.

Older persons interested may make their reservation and/or donation of homemade items and baked goods by calling RSVP at 876-7200. All donations must be home-made.

Jobs for first offenders

Operation Turn Around, a job program in which first offenders between the ages of 14 and 17 years can work during the summer months, is taking applications starting today.

Youths interested in joining the program at Lewis and Clark State Park, near Hartford, may complete an application form at the Illinois State Employment Services (ISES) office, 1820 Cleveland Blvd.

Pay will be $2.30 per hour for a 20-hour week.

A total of 20 youths from Madison County communities, divided into two groups, will be employed through the Manpower Development program, according to Kim Hammon, project director. Bus transportation will be furnished to the work site, he said.

Those seeking an application at the ISES office are required to ask for an Operation Turn Around form and print the title of the program, or "to attention of Kim Hammon," on top of the application.

Participants must have been in a detention home or similar facility, or currently be on probation, Mark Somma, a counselor in the program said Friday.

Job applications will be processed, starting this week, with the work project to commence June 13.

Fire hydrant tests scheduled

The East St. Louis and Interurban Water Company in conjunction with the Granite City Fire Department will begin hydrant flushing in the downtown Granite City area this week. Under this program, each fire hydrant throughout the city will be inspected and flowed to its capacity. Flow pressures and the general condition of each hydrant is recorded by both the water company and Fire Department representatives.

Because of the increase in velocity in the water mains in the area in which a hydrant is being flushed, there may be some discoloration in the water, an official noted.

This is not unusual and the water is perfectly safe. The usual clearness will return to the water within a few hours, he said.

As the flushing program proceeds to other areas in the city, notices will be published as to the general locations. The program is designed to insure that the city is provided with adequate and reliable fire protection, the spokesman said.

Art show begins Wednesday

The annual Madison County Town and Country Art Show, sponsored by the local Town and Country Art Committee extension service of the University of Illinois, will take place Wednesday through Sunday.

The show will be held at Bob Kinsey Motors, Highway 159, south of Edwardsville.

On Wednesday evening at 6 p.m., critiques and awards will be given at a special private showing.

The schedule of public viewing of the works of art to be shown is as follows: Friday, 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Sunday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free to the public.

Granite Cityans who have entered works to be exhibited are: Nellie Dierker, S. N. Frazio, Roger Q. Hoover, Randie G. Lee, Eva M. Meadows, Gloria H. Stence, Mrs. Harold E. Stallings, Norma J. Tolbert and Norma N. Turner.

GRADING ON PERSHING Boulevard here starts last week to complete a curb and guttering project begun nearly six months ago. The work begins at Marshall Avenue and will continue eastward to Garden Avenue. Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets, center, and First Ward Aldermen Everett Morlen, left, and Charles Douglas, right, look on. The project will involve lowering the grade of Pershing as much as 18 inches in some places, to attain a level with newly installed curbs and guttering. Residents along the street have been protesting delay in completing the job because of inconvenience in driving.

McNary new East-West vice-chairman

Gene McNary, supervisor of St. Louis County, has been elected the new vice-chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council. He was unanimously elected to the vice-chairmanship by the board and succeeds John H. Poelker.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City continues as chairman of East-West.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council is the council of governments for the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Its activities are varied. The common objective is the orderly development of a region which covers 4,500 square miles; has a population of about 2,450,000; and includes 182 cities, eight counties and hundreds of special districts.

Through the Gateway Council, local-level governments can cooperate in planning for major regional improvements such as highways, sewage systems and mass transit.

The Council also directs and often participates in special studies of subjects of major importance to the economic growth and prosperity of the entire bi-state area.

"Actions taken by the Gateway Council help to shape the kind of place the metropolitan area is today and will be tomorrow," Executive Director Alan Richter believes.

"The Gateway Council also is the only forum which brings together the elected governmental leaders of the area to establish, through consensus, regional policies on matters of wide importance."

The Council's 21-member board of directors includes the chief elected officials of counties and municipalities in the Missouri and Illinois sectors of the region, the chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency and six regional citizens.

Also on the board, as non-voting members, are representatives of the Missouri Highway Department and Office of Administration and the Illinois Departments of Transportation and Local Governmental Affairs.

The offices of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council are on the 12th floor of the Pierce Building, 112 N. 4th St.

Firefly search

Sigma Firefly Scientists Club members are roaming through parks and fields across the country once again. Teams of young catchers have dusted off their nets to help science in a serious business — catching "lightning bugs." Sigma Chemical Co., St. Louis, sponsors the drive each year.

Fireflies are considered a valuable source of rare chemicals known to research scientists and chemists as the substrate, "Luciferin," and the enzyme, "Luciferase."

These chemicals are used in medical research for diagnostic purposes and the search for possible cures of human ailments, including cancer. They are also being used to detect possible presence of life on other planets.

Experiments are being conducted all over the world, and a new application is for the detection of water pollution. Bacteria in water supplies can be detected in four hours; older techniques required 48 hours.

Tips on catching fireflies, mailing containers, and specially shaped nets are available from the club.

Anyone collecting fireflies through the club will be paid weekly, based on the number of fireflies delivered. Payment is made on a sliding scale, with $1 per hundred as the maximum rate. The phone number is (314) 771-5765 and the address is Sigma Firefly Scientists Club, P.O. Box 14508, St. Louis 63178.

GC School Board to oppose bill to give hearings to dismissed teachers

Granite City School Board members last week voted to send letters to state representatives and senators from this area opposing three pending pieces of legislation.

House Bill 904 would give teachers honorably dismissed due to enrollment cuts or fund squeezes the opportunity to call for a hearing on the dismissal.

Supt. B. J. Davis estimated each hearing costs $4,500 of which the state pays only $2,000. He noted 61 teachers were honorably dismissed by the district effective the end of this year to guard against over-staffing next year. Most will be rehired when positions become available for next year.

He said passage of HB 904 "would be like giving tenure rights to non-tenure teachers," and that the district could not afford to pay for the hearings.

The other two bills the board is objecting to would have no direct bearing on the Granite City school district, but would affect smaller school districts in Southern Illinois and elsewhere.

One measure, House Bill 1206, would increase the minimum salary teachers must be paid, and House Bill 1853 would require that dues teachers pay to their unions be taken directly from their paychecks by school districts.

Davis said he objects to House Bill 1206 since the "checkoff provision" has been negotiated into the present contract and making it a requirement would take it out of the realm of items which can be discussed in negotiations.

"It would just be a case of the state taking away one of our bargaining issues during negotiations," he said.

Ozone levels decline

In 1976, ozone levels in Illinois decreased slightly from 1975 levels, a newly-completed study showed today.

Air pollution officials at the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency believe the reduction may be attributable to reduced automobile and industry emissions; however, the meteorological influence on these levels is not yet known.

"We have had a steady reduction in industry emissions the past five years and more cars now have pollution control equipment than ever before," said Patrick Lynch, deputy director, Illinois EPA.

"Ozone concentrations, however, are strongly influenced by sunlight, temperature and other meteorological conditions."

"We do know that peak ozone levels have dropped significantly over the past few years. But the levels are still high enough to reach ozone advisory conditions in all parts of the state," Lynch continued.

Last year, ozone advisory conditions were reached 52 days at the Wood River monitering station, the most advisories of any station in the state.

Quincy was second with 34 and the Chicago community of Hillside was third with 32.

An ozone advisory is the first stage of Illinois' four-stage air pollution alert system for the public.

Ozone advisory conditions occure when concentrations reach a level where people "very susceptible to air pollution" should adjust their physical activity to avoid exposing themselves to the pollutant.

Five Yellow Alerts were declared last summer — three for the Wood River area (north of the Hartford Canal), one for the City of Chicago and one for Waukegan. This type of alert is declared when ozone starts to affect the general public.

The highest ozone level ever recorded in the state occurred in Waukegan last summer, just a few days after the monitor was installed. Prior to that date, the highest level was recorded at Kenwood High School in Chicago.

U.S. NAVY HONORS Clayton J. Harrison of Granite City, an aviation machinist mate—jets (ADJ-3) in the U.S. Navy Reserves, as 'Plane Captain of the Quarter' for the first three months of 1977. Presenting the plaque and a letter of appreciation is Commander J. S. Greenwood, commanding officer of Attack Squadron Two Zero Four (VA-204), at the squadron's headquarters in Memphis, Tenn.

Navy River Rattlers honor GC reservist

The River Rattlers of Attack Squadron Two Zero Four (VA-204), U.S. Navy, have selected Aviation Machinist Mate — Jets Clayton J. "Jug" Harrison of Granite City as the 'Plane Captain of the Quarter' for the first three months of 1977.

ADJ Harrison, 2902 Sunset Drive, received a plaque and a letter of appreciation for his efforts in the squadron in ceremonies at a squadron muster at the Memphis Naval Air Station in Millington, Tenn.

The presentation was made by Commander J. S. Greenwood, VA-204 commanding officer.

The plane captain is instrumental in preparing an aircraft for flight and ensuring the plane is safe for flying after the pilot has started the engine, but prior to take off, the commendation explained.

ADJ Harrison was chosen by a panel of his contemporaries and peers as the "outstanding" plane captain of the quarter.

The U.S. Navy Reservist is a 1952 graduate of Granite City High School South. He joined the Navy after graduation and served on board the USS Iowa during the Korean Conflict.

ADJ Harrison remained in the service until Aug. 25, 1956. He became a member of the U.S. Navy Reserves in June 1971.

He attended Southern Illinois University at East St. Louis from 1958 to 1960 and currently is employed by the Granite City Street Department.

He is married to the former Margaret Sue Mahond and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Harrison, 2203 Nevada Ave.

Services for Albert Falter

Funeral services were held Saturday in Livingston for Albert E. Falter, 67, of Wilsonville, a former resident of Madison for more than 30 years.

Mr. Falter died of an apparent heart ailment at 9:45 p.m. May 4, at St. John's Hospital in Springfield, where he was a patient two days. He also was a patient at St. Francis Hospital, Litchfield, for two days before being transferred to the Springfield hospital.

A welder for nearly 30 years at General Steel Industries' Granite City plant, Mr. Falter moved to Wilsonville upon retiring when the plant here closed.

He was born in Olive Township in Madison County.

Mr. Falter was a member of Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church in Gillespie.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Helen Falter; two sons, Norman Falter of Lakeside, Calif., and Howard Falter of Livingston; two daughters, Mrs. Leslie (Delores) Smith of Liverpool, N. Y., and Mrs. Mary Lou Bouich of San Antonio, Tex.; two brothers, Oscar Falter of Alhambra and Edwin Falter of Battle Creek, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Kinda Knackstedt of Granite City, Miss Mabel Falter of St. Louis, Mrs. Clara Grange of Collinsville and Mrs. Nello (Leona) Marasti of Gillespie; and 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Interment was in Salem Cemetery near Alhambra.

Robt. Conley dies at 64

Robert L. Conley, 64, of 2323 Washington Ave., ill for one year, died at 5:15 p.m. Thursday at the Centreville Township Hospital, where he had been a patient three days.

He was a retired machinist at American Steel Foundries.

Mr. Conley was born in Murphysboro, Ill., and resided here 48 years. He was a member of the Moose Lodge and a senior citizen club.

Survivors include four children, Hershel Conley, owner and operator of Hershel's Television Service Co., Granite City, and Lloyd Conley of Madison, Robert E. Conley of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Ed (Wilma) LaPlante of Sierra Vista, Ariz.; and eight grandchildren.

Venice man faces 3 charges

Charles E. Smith Jr., 29, of 1232 Oriole St., Venice, was charged with resisting arrest, interfering with a police officer and disorderly conduct during the weekend after Venice officers alleged he became abusive toward police and then fled in an attempt to avoid being arrested.

Officers said they were writing a traffic ticket for a woman motorist when Smith approached on a motorcycle and allegedly objected to the ticket being written, interfering with the officer.

After ignoring several warnings to leave the area, Smith was told to get off his motorcycle and show his driver's license, the officers alleged.

Instead of obeying, he allegedly fled the scene on the motorcycle, but was stopped moments later by a squad car and was returned to the scene where he allegedly threatened one officer.

At the police station, officers charged he refused to give police the information they requested to book him and resisted efforts to place him in a jail cell. Force had to be used to get him in the jail, police related.

He posted $100 cash bond and was released.

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Next year there will be no escape from the metric system if you are a motorist, whether you're driving on an Interstate, a county road or a back street in town.

The federal Highway Administration is drafting regulations to convert all speed limit signs in the country in a 90-day period ending Sept. 30, 1978.

While the federal government as a whole dawdles along on metrication, FHA appears out front with its intention of publishing a 1977 addition to the manual on uniform traffic control devices.

Gone will be MPH for miles per hour. Look instead for KPH, kilometers per hour.

Will the transition be difficult?

McClory the metric man, that is Rep. Robert McClory (R-13th-Ill.), thinks not.

He has been pushing right along for metrication, contending that it is the only sensible course for the one major industrial nation that has not yet converted to the "eminently logical and practical system."

He says, "Road signs will be a good way to phase in metrication.

"People won't have any difficulty at all."

As "proof," he cites the increasing use of Celsius to replace Fahrenheit in temperature readings.

If you need a rule of thumb, in itself a hangover from the venerable English system of weights and measures, McClory suggests you think of a kilometer as roughly six-tenths of a mile. Actually, he notes, it's zero point six two one.

McClory sponsored a bill calling for conversion to metric weights and measures in an orderly and comprehensive manner with a target date.

But what Congress passed and President Gerald Ford signed was the Metric Conversion Act of 1975, providing for a metric conversion board to be named by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

Ford named a 17-member board, but the Senate neglected to confirm his nominees.

President Jimmy Carter recently withdrew their names from further consideration and has given no indication of how he intends to proceed.

The uncertainties led the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers to report:

McClory recently introduced a House concurrent resolution (H. Con.Res. 154) to get metrication off dead center by calling for a definitive commitment to conversion.

He said the nation should set a target date and move persistently and uniformly toward it.

The FHA apparently is the only agency so far that is taking a target date seriously.

Be ready if it does promulgate its 1976 regulations. You will have to know that 88.5 KPH—or 90 KPH, if the figure is rounded off—will represent the national speed limit of 55 MPH under the old system.

Hearings on use permits due Tuesday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct three on-site public hearings tomorrow on zoning requests in Quad-City area townships.

The first hearing will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday on Keelin Lane on Chouteau Island where Bonita Peterson and Sharon F. Grogan are requesting a special use permit to place a double-wide mobile home on two acres of property.

At 9:20 a.m. tomorrow, the board will meet along West Chain of Rocks Road next to John's Fishing Lake where Mary Gregus is requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home.

At 10 a.m. Tuesday, the board will convene at 516 Fleming Place in Mitchell where Bernice Barron Fague and Hilda Sonenbert are requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home.

ARBOR DAY OBSERVANCE. Officials and residents of Venice take part in a tree planting ceremony in observance of Arbor Day. A 12-foot tree, planted last month, replaced a similar tree which was damaged and had died. The planting was in front of the recreation center and park district offices. Attending the afternoon ceremony are (from left) Mrs. Margaret Reidelberger; Larry Williamson Sr. and his son Larry Jr.; Peter Ponce, president of the Venice Park Board; Willis Crenshaw, a park employe; Mayor William Ebersoldt; John Ervin, Third Ward alderman; Mrs. Valeta Bauder, Park Board member; Mrs. Jewel Crook, librarian at the Venice Public Library, and Mrs. Evelyn Carroll and her sons, Bill and John. DRIVER INJURED. Lester Sherfy, 40, of 2552 Adams St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation after his auto and the car of Charles Beasley, 1751 Chestnut St., collided at 22nd Street and Grand Avenue at 6:40 p.m. Wednesday. Beasley was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way. Sherfy suffered neck pain and a possible head injury and underwent a series of x-rays.

Illinois Bell 'Stores' to sell phones in a variety of models

Illinois Bell has announced plans for a series of PhoneCenter Stores where residence customers will be able to shop in person and take home the plug-in telephones of their choice.

The company plans to open some 25 stores around the state this year, according to Joseph H. Johnson, Illinois Bell's vice president-marketing.

The new PhoneCenter Stores will be located both in existing Illinois Bell customer offices and in shopping centers, Johnson said.

Besides being able to see telephones before they order, customers whose homes are wired for plug-in phones can save the cost of an installer's visit by carrying home the plug-in phones of their choice. They can browse around for phones just the way they shop at their favorite stores. Customers also will be able to pay telephone bills and conduct other routine telephone business at the stores.

"The variety of residence telephone models and services we have today is large and growing larger," Johnson said. "We feel people will benefit from the chance to look these over and try them out before they choose. The PhoneCenter is a one-stop shop where everything to do wtih telephones and telephone service is fast, simple and convenient — and even fun.

"Another obvious behefit is that people can save on installation charges if their homes are already wired for plug-in telephones. Nearly half of all residence phones have this feature today, and we have a conversion program under way to expand the availability of plug-in telephone outlets."

Johnson said the first three stores will be opened in existing Illinois Bell offices in about a month. These stores will be restricted to serving customers in their local neighborhoods. They will be located in Chicago and Lockport.

Later this year the first shopping mall PhoneCenter Store will be opened at Woodfield Mall in Schaumberg.

Grigsby Band wins first state award

The Grigsby Junior High School Band, conducted by Miss Vivian Raffaelle, received a first rating in Class A, at the state band contest held in Albion, Ill., last week.

Two of the judges gave the 63-member-band a first superior rating, Miss Raffaelle reported.

Students participating in the event made the trip by bus.

Henry named to clean air staff

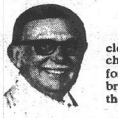

The appointment of Jim Henry as air pollution control engineer of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board was confirmed unanimously by the City Council in a meeting last month. The appointment was made by Mayor Paul Schuler.

Henry has been filling the position on a temporary basis.

Schuler also announced the appointment of four employes at the city's sewage treatment plant. All were confirmed by the council.

The appointments included Thomas Wofford, Robert R. Lindsey, Larry Dawes and Robert Timko. They will fill vacancies created by illnesses and retirements.

Food supply is linked to energy issue

Failure to balance U.S. energy supply and demand could result in not only shortages of energy but also shortages of food, the chief economist for Standard Oil Company (Indiana) said last week.

Addressing the Food Marketing Institute, Theodore R. Eck said President Carter's energy program does nothing to increase domestic supplies of oil and natural gas — fuels on which the food and fiber industries are heavily dependent.

"The plan mandates a precarious path from now until 1985, and over the long term relies on solar or other exotic energy sources to solve our energy needs," Eck said. "However, it will be decades before they can be widely adopted on a commercial basis.

"In the interim, we will remain principally dependent on oil, natural gas and coal, and the Carter Administration's energy plan, on balance, has a negative impact on the development of these resources."

Eck said the energy package will give the oil industry less money for investment than under the current law, and would probably result in a 10 per cent drop in the number of wells drilled — aggravating the "already serious situation" of declining U.S. oil and gas reserves and leading eventually to inevitable shortages.

Services at Buck Road Cemetery

Jim McPike, a state representative from the 56th District, will be the principal speaker at memorial services at the Buck Road Cemetery on Sunday, May 15, at 2 p.m. Prayers will be by the Rev. William J. Stanley, St. Cecelia's Church, Glen Carbon, and songs will be by the church choir.

A roll call of veterans buried in the cemetery will be given by the Harry G. Seaton Post 435, American Legion, Glen Carbon. Memorial services also will be conducted at the Henry Ostendorf Memorial by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300 of Granite City.

Scott enters hazard issue

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott said Thursday he will ask for a court ruling to lift secrecy surrounding the question of what types of hazardous materials are buried at a landfill site near Wilsonville.

Scott said his office will appear in Macoupin County Circuit Court today and ask for the ruling, in a role as "friend of the court."

He said, "For years we've fought for the public's right to know what types of materials are being shipped and stored in Illinois. Wilsonville is no exception.

"If Judge John Russell agrees with our request, the public will know the types of hazardous materials stored, and wild rumors will be laid to rest. Our request will not result in the violation of trade secrets."

The landfill became a source of controversy in mid-April when Wilsonville residents protested plans to buy PCB-laden materials from Missouri. The landfill is operated by the Earthline Corporation under regulation by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

HUB CAPS TAKEN

Kathy Domitrovich, 2257 Cleveland Blvd., reported the theft of four hub caps from her auto parked in front of her home at 5 p.m. Thursday. The hub caps had a total value of $220.

Driver injured, fence damaged

A one-car accident at 2:30 a.m. Friday 100 feet east of Granite City Steel's 20th and Nash street entrance, resulted in damage to property and injuries to the auto's driver, David L. Brown, 23, of Marine, Ill.

Brown was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by city ambulance and admitted, suffering cuts to his left hand, neck, lip and a fractured left shoulder.

Police said Brown was driving east on 20th Street when he apparently lost control of the auto, skidding about 100 feet before going into a spin and knocking down 57 feet of fencing, then striking and damaging 12 feet of a building.

The auto then struck and destroyed a speed limit sign and a no stopping or standing sign before coming to a stop.

Wheat disease confirmed here

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County
Agricultural Advisor

Wheat Streak Mosaic disease has just been confirmed in Madison County.

Prior to this month, disease-infected samples were reported in St. Clair, Monroe, and Fayette Counties.

It is hard to tell at this point how serious the problem may be this year. Most of the wheat fields I have checked in the past two weeks appear in excellent condition.

When checking a field for Wheat Streak Mosaic, look for light green to faint yellow blotches or streaks in the leaves parallel to the veins.

Infected plants later become stunted and develop a general yellow mottling, except for a few green streaks or blotches in the leaves.

Wheat Streak Mosaic is caused by a virus. Another virus-caused disease that looks similar to wheat streak is soil-borne mosaic virus.

Usually, the symptoms from the soil-borne mosaic virus disappear with warmer weather.

The ideal time to harvest alfalfa is after the full bud to first bloom stage.

Any delay in harvest after this period will cause a decrease in digestible dry matter and protein. Actual hay yields may increase until the alfalfa is in full bloom, but the digestibility of the crop declines faster than the yield increases.

Due to heavy infestations of alfalfa weevil, some farmers in this county are cutting their alfalfa early and then spraying the regrowth. Cutting early will reduce the tonnage yield but the protein and digestibility will remain high.

Harvest grass hay crops like orchardgrass or fescue just before the heads emerge.

"WE ARE PROUD TO SERVE YOU"
ST. ELIZABETH HOSPITAL
NATIONAL HOSPITAL WEEK MAY 8-14, 1977

THE X-RAY DEPARTMENT is a prime example of direct patient care. This department, operating 24-hours daily, completed 85,694 procedures in 1976. Equipped with the latest technical equipment, including that which covers nuclear medicine, the X-ray department received the long-awaited EMI-Scanner, a total body diagnostic unit, May 3.

How often we've said that to you from a back x-ray room, from the kitchen, from the boiler room, from a supply room and from every patient room.

Maybe the pride was not told in words exactly as in the above quotation. Perhaps the statement was disguised as a bedside chat, or a brighter light bulb; a fluffed pillow or directional assistance to a particular department.

In addition, the promise of every hospital is to keep pace — to provide the newest medical advances now because next year may be too late for some. In keeping with our reputation for having the finest medical equipment, St. Elizabeth received a new EMI Scanner on May 3.

But, no matter how we remind you of the honor we feel in serving you, you can rest assured the statement will continue to circulate. For St. Elizabeth Hospital not only has an obligation, but we want you to know: "We are proud to serve you."

THE 19 ASSOCIATES of the Central Supply Department, a typical behind-the-scenes hospital service, supplies St. Elizabeth's 10 patient floors with sterile supplies at the rate of 20,000 patient items per month.

NURSING SERVICE employs over 500 associates: registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, nurses' aides, orderlies, unit managers and unit secretaries. Last year this group helped care for 15,930 patients admitted for medical care and treatment.

Linhart, Martinez star at Ill. State

Illinois State baseball standout Greg Linhart is the kind of guy who takes advantage of an opportunity. A walk-out candidate as a freshman, he had to wait his turn for a chance at the varsity lineup at the Bloomington-Normal' campus.

Opportunity knocked midway through his sophomore season, and he answered with a 5-for-46 series against Evansville. Linhart, now a junior, has been a fixture in the Redbird infield ever since.

The Granite City South athlete led Illinois State in batting with a .342 average last season, and currently ranks second on the squad with a .292 mark.

He also was a steady fielder at second base for the 1976 club that advanced to the NCAA Mideast Regional Tournament. This year, he has also played shortstop when the starter at that position, Jeff Zitek, was injured.

Linhart comes from a baseball family. His father, Carl, a Granite City High School graduate, reached the major leagues with the Detroit Tigers in 1951.

Even so, Greg Linhart is somewhat surprised by his batting success at ISU.

"It did surprise me that I hit well last season because I never really hit that well in high school," Linhart said. "My junior year I hit .300 but my senior year I hit only .260.

"The key was that I concentrated more on trying to develop a quicker bat. I also tried to hit more ground balls and stay away from fly balls. I tried to bring my top hand over and pull the ball more to left field."

Linhart, who bats second in the ISU lineup, feels that this position has helped his hitting because he likes to go with the pitch and bunt.

He also has shown power at the plate. He leads the Redbirds with two home runs and seven doubles.

Something else that has helped Linhart this season is the presence of Mike Martinez, an outfielder who transfered to ISU from Broward Junior College in Florida. Martinez is also from Granite City and played baseball with Linhart since Little League. Martinez currently leads ISU in hitting with a .292 average.

"He has helped me as much as anyone because he has always been a good hitter," Linhart said.

"He is able to pick up the little things that I am doing wrong because he has seen me play for so long. We see things that the other does at the plate and help one another."

Practice may make perfect, but Linhart admits that it's difficult for him.

"It's 100 per cent different in a game," he explained. "I am not just a practice hitter.

"I think that hurt my chances early because I didn't hit in practice. In batting practice, I don't like to take that many swings — I just try to get loose and hit some line drives."

Linhart's hitting has been one of the bright spots for an ISU team that has a 19-24 mark plus one tie.

Baker wins two-mile, Steelers 5th in meet

GCHS North placed fifth Saturday in a seven-school track and field meet held at Springfield Southeast High School, won by Danville with 79 2-3 points.

East St. Louis Lincoln had 69, the hosts 50, Edwardsville 45, North 27 1-3, Quincy 20 and Collinsville 13.

North pointmakers also included: two-mile relay — Greg Stout, Aaron Hickham, Dave Ebrecht, Glen Edwards 2nd; 440 relay — David Page, Kevin Burch, Roberto Cuevas, Bruce Jateff 5th; 880 run — Don Lucy 3rd, Hicham 4th.

Mitchell, Mercer stay unbeaten

Mercer Mortuary and Mitchell Athletic Club won twinbills, ending yesterday's Inter-City Baseball action deadlocked for the lead with 4-0 records.

Mercer beat J&J twice by 2-0 and 9-2, and the Mitchell club edged Highland-Pierron 3-1 and 4-3.

Two other scheduled doubleheaders were postponed due to wet diamonds — Thomas Mortuary at Panama and Music Room Vans at East Alton Brewers.

Both Mercer and J&J field flawlessly in the first game. J&J pitcher Kevin O'Shia hurled a two-hitter and Mercer's Greg Wolk allowed three hits.

Mercer scored its runs in the fifth inning when Ken Schaake, Jeff Scarborough and Jack Scarborough all singled, Pete Peterson was hit by a pitch and Jim Greenwald singled.

Vic Reznack was the winner in the second contest, holding J&J to two runs in the sixth when John Young singled, Tim Batson reached on an error and Jim Cromer tripled them in.

Bob Scott doubled in three runs in the third for Mercer after Jack Scarborough, Peterson and Greenwald had walked.

Mitchell hurlers Tony Stajduhar and Mike Stanton picked up the wins at Pierron.

MAC sent three runners home in the fourth frame of the first game as Ed Kowalczyk doubled, Tom Carroll and Dennis Vartanian singled, Rick Hawks reached base on an error and Bruce Pfeiffer doubled.

The Pierron squad deadlocked the second contest at 2-2 with a run in the fourth. The visitors had scored in the third while MAC scored two runs in that frame on a homer by Hector Sanabria after Pfeiffer reached on an error.

Jim Kovarick walked, Kowalczyk doubled and Ed Prazma singled in the fifth for the tying and winning runs.

Pierron scored a lone run in the fifth.

Warriors win by 6-1

Warrior Mike Papes won 6-1, 6-1, Tom Boker won 6-2, 6-3, Andy Hall won 6-4, 7-6, and Ron Backs lost 6-4, 5-7, 2-6.

Papes-Jim Eftimoff won 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, Boker-Hall won 6-1, 6-0 and Mark Krinski-Jeff Hagopian won 6-0, 6-1.

Lansdowne captures GC frosh track meet

Lansdowne Junior High School of East St. Louis, the 1974 winner, won the annual freshman track tournament here Thursday, topping 16 other schools at GCHS North by tallying 52 points.

Steeler Coach Harry Lang commented that the meet provides fierce and close competition and can be considered one of the top meets in the area.

Martin Luther King, the 1975 meet titlist, was second in 1977 with 36 points and Clark Junior High finished third with 34.

Rounding out the finishing order were Rock Junior High 26 points, GCHS South and Cahokia tied for fifth with 20 each, GCHS North seventh, Alton Central and Alton West tied for eighth with 14 each, Hughes-Quinn 10, Belleville East nine, Riverview Central eight, Edwardsville six, Alton East five, and Collinsville three.

Alton North and Riverview East failed to gain points.

Warrior Steve Adams led South's effort with a first-place finish in pole vaulting (11 feet). Mike Konzen was second in discus, Bert Houston second in the two-mile run and Jim Grove third in discus.

Glen Edwards of North High captured the 880-yard run (2:09.1), John Kefalas was second in the pole vault and third in the 440 dash, and Edwards took fifth in pole vaulting.

Spalding, Barker, Backlund win; 11-car crash disables 8 vehicles

Wib Spalding of Pontoon Beach was not involved in an 11-car crash on the sixth lap of a 25-lap feature race for late model stock cars Saturday night at Tri-City Speedway, and won the event despite a strong challenge from defending titlist Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo. The race took place on the half-mile oval.

Granite City drivers led by Gary Barker swept the top five finishing positions in a sportsman division main event on the quarter-mile track.

Missouri's Kenny Schrader was attempting to catch up with Spalding and Wallace when his race car struck a retaining wall, causing it to spin across the track. Ten other cars crashed into his car.

Eight vehicles, including Schrader's, were knocked out of commission.

Wallace later was victimized by a crash when he attempted to pass Spalding. He struck a dirt mound and light pole, damaging his car.

Other late model division race victors were Wallace, Kenny Shrum, Jerry Sifford and Spalding, heat races, and Mike Wallace, consolation event.

The midget division portion of the program saw Jon Backlund of Kansas City, Mo., take top honors in a feature race, with Roger Branson, Gene Gennetten, Brian Holderfield and Billy Hunt placing in order behind him.

Warriors oust Kahoks; other contests today

All Quad-City teams are still alive in Illinois High School Association district baseball competition. GCHS South eliminated Collinsville Thursday, and Saturday's two games were postponed until this afternoon.

Unfavorable weather conditions combined with already wet diamonds — caused by heavy rains Friday — prevented many district games, including those at the South-hosted district tourney.

A Saturday morning game on South Field between Madison and GCHS North has been reset for four o'clock today on Wilson Park diamond one, Fehling Road and State Street.

And Saturday afternoon's semifinal game between Edwardsville and South will be played at four o'clock today on South Field at the Fehling Road curve.

Winners of today's contests will clash for district honors tomorrow in a 4 p.m. game on South's diamond.

Other postponements came at the Dupo, Belleville West, Wood River and Marissa district tournaments.

At O'Fallon on Saturday, East St. Louis Lincoln edged Assumption 4-3 and Lebanon defeated Trenton Wesclin 9-3. Lincoln and Lebanon will play for that district's title.

Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion South High School went an extra inning Thursday afternoon to slip past opening-game foe Collinsville 3-2.

The Kahoks put together two hits and capitalized on three South fielding errors in the first frame to lead 2-0. The score stood for six full innings, with hurler Greg Peters refusing to yield South a hit until the seventh.

The Kahok pitcher saw his hopes of hurling a no-hitter vanish with the smoke from hot bats wielded by Mike Clark and John Lakin.

Peters gave up a walk to Eldon Warfield in what was supposed to have been the final frame, but then Clark and Lakin both doubled to deadlock the score.

Collinsville's 1977 season ended abruptly in the eighth as Tom Hennrich led off the bottom half with a hit and then advanced on a hit-and-run grounder, that retired Keith Champion at first base.

With two outs, winning pitcher Paul Evans drew an intentional walk. Warfield crossed up the Kahok strategy and singled to centerfield for the winning run.

"This is what happens in tournament play," said Coach Champion.

"You usually can't win games by committing three errors in a single inning.

"Fortunately, we rallied and had timely hits and fine pitching.

Evans gave up five hits and fanned 11 batters.

Baseball tryouts

Art Jovi has announced that the Glen Carbon American Legion Post 435 baseball team will conduct tryouts and practice for Quad-City area athletes high school through 19 age group, starting at 5 p.m. tomorrow on the GCHS North diamonds.

9-year-olds needed

The Granite City Park District is in need of boys born in 1968 to help fill the player roster of a second-year Atom Division baseball team. The team needs five more boys on the roster to bring it to the minimum number required for a team.

The team will be playing games on Mondays and Fridays after the initial game on Saturday, May 14, following a baseball parade that day.

Boys interested in joining this team are to contact the Wilson Park office at 877-3050 as soon as possible.

New dam and fees advance

If replacement of Alton Locks and Dam 26 gains Congressional authorization this year, it appears certain to be accompanied by the imposition of waterway user fees, it is being predicted in Washington.

The Senate Environment and Public Works Committee approved both proposals Thursday, specifying a new 1,200-foot lock two miles downstream. The legislation next goes to the Senate Commerce Committee. There has been no House action on the topic this year.

The Carter administration opposes immediate replacement action and has proposed an 18-month study costing $10 million" to $15 million.

The bill approved Thursday, sponsored by Sen. Pete V. Domenici (R-New Mexico), calls for the U.S. Transportation Department to set up a system of tolls and other fees, gradually rising over a ten-year period.

Goal at the end of the first decade would be to have barge owners pay for the full cost of operation and maintenance and half the cost of construction of such waterway facilities.

President Carter instead has suggested a diesel fuel tax, phased in over five years, to recover construction and operational costs.

Fees would go into the federal treasury's general fund, and would be barred from "becoming so high that they cause serious economic disruption."

Display of quilts

Residents of this area will have an opportunity Thursday to view one of the most extensive collections of quilts ever amassed in one place and placed on public display, according to John Oldani, associate professor of English language and literature at SIUE and coordinator of the Folklore Archive on the campus.

More than 200 quilts, as well as single specimen blocks representing patterns from all over the U.S., will be on display at the university. The exhibition will be open to the public from 9:30 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Admission to the quilt show will be $1. Proceeds will go to the upkeep of the Folklore Archive.

Anyone in the area who wishes to exhibit a quilt or quilts is being encouraged to contact Oldani in Room 0233 of Peck Classroom Building or by calling 692-3427.

This is the second year for the quilt collection to be on display.

News notes

Illinois Conservation Director David Kenney recommended Friday that fishing licenses be increased from $2 to $7, hunting license from $5 to $10 and deer hunting permits from $5 to $20. Noting that fees have been the same for 20 years, he also urged a combination hunting and fishing license costing $15.

Land use meeting tonight

The Madison County Planning Commission will conduct a meeting at 7:30 tonight at the City Hall in Granite City on land use issues affecting the municipalities of Pontoon Beach, Venice, Madison and Granite City and the townships of Chouteau, Nameoki, Venice and Granite City.

It will be the second in a series of three public gatherings being held throughout Madison County to obtain citizen participation in the development of land use goals and polices.

Factors discussed will include agricultural, commercial, residential and industrial.

Car hits guardrail

Thomas Dooley, 30, of 2106 Alton Ave., Madison, was charged with driving on the wrong side of the roadway and with failure to give information after an accident in which his auto allegedly struck a guardrail on State Street north of 18th Street at 1:05 a.m. Sunday.

It was alleged Dooley's auto was northbound on State Street when it crossed the road and struck the corner of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank parking lot guardrail with enough impact to break three posts.

The auto then left the scene, it was charged. Police followed a trail of water from the broken radiator to the 2100 block of Cleveland Boulevard where Dooley was arrested.

New Prather pupils to visit school

Students who will enter Prather Junior High School as seventh graders this fall and their parents will be hosted at a "get acquainted" night at Prather beginning at 7 p.m. today. The event will be held in the school gymnasium.

Incoming seventh-grade pupils with their parents will be given an opportunity to tour the building and meet the teachers and school officials, a spokesman said. The program is for current sixth-graders and their parents or guardians only.

'Mame' to be at GCHS South

The Granite City High School South second annual joint performing arts production of "Mame" will be presented Thursday and again Saturday in the school auditorium at 8 p.m.

On Friday afternoon a special performance will be given for the senior class.

Directing the production is Mrs. Beverly Scroggins of the Speech Department with Mrs. Mary Ann Bright as musical director and Terry Wafler conducting the orchestra.

Mrs. Margaret Peanell choreographed the production.

Leading roles are: Diane Lewis as Mame, Bradford Friends as Beau Gregard, Tim Polvderly as Patrick and Peter Dennis; Kelly Cottrell as Vera Charles, Dan Hunnicutt as Patrick when an adult, and Debbie Thebeau as Agnes Gooch.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1.50 for students, and may be purchased at the school or from any member of the group.

Since last year was a sellout, it was suggested that persons buy tickets in advance.

St. Louis escapee is arrested in Mitchell

A man alleged to be one of six escapees from the St. Louis city jail was arrested without incident at 8:20 p.m. Sunday at the Greenway Motel, 701 E. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, by two Illinois State Police troopers and three officers from the St. Louis Police Department.

Seibert Ray Medley, 50, of the 2300 block of South Ninth St., St. Louis, was arrested after police received confidential information he was in the motel.

The six men escaped at 3:30 a.m. Saturday.

Medley's arrest was the third in the effort to recapture the escapees. A fourth, Antonio Colin, 30, St. Louis, was arrested at 10:25 p.m. Sunday at an apartment in the 2200 block of Montgomery St., St. Louis. He is charged with first degree robbery and armed criminal action.

Previously captured were Ervin A. Hass, 43, St. Louis, who was found hiding under a pile of dirty clothes in a St. Louis Home, and Donald Leon Winter, 26, who was recaptured about 4:30 p.m. Saturday at a cousin's home in St. Louis.

Medley was awaiting trial on charges of first-degree robbery and armed criminal action.

Haas was charged with first-degree robbery, armed criminal action and assault with intent to kill with malice in connection with a tavern holdup in St. Louis during which St. Louis Officer Walter H. Serb Jr. was shot and partially paralyzed, according to a department spokesman.

None of the men had been charged with escape today.

Still being sought are DaWayne D. Inge, 18, St. Louis, charged with first-degree robbery, armed criminal action and parole violation, and Clarence A. Wilburn, 37, of St. Louis, charged with illegal possession of a controlled substance.

A St. Louis police spokesman said the six were trustys and were allowed to use all areas of the jail's sixth floor.

A hacksaw blade and a screwdriver were recovered which were believed used to saw through a bar. An empty grease jar also was found and officers believe the escapees oswered themselves with grease to squeeze through the narrow opening created by removing one bar.

The noise of a radio may have covered the noise of the hacksaw blade on the bar, officers said. The prisoners were discovered missing about 10 minutes after guards made a check of the sixth floor, it was reported.

Armed violence is charged

Raymond Warren, 36, of 2918 rear Palmer Ave., was charged Saturday with armed violence after allegedly firing at least one gunshot at the home of his former wife, Mrs. Susan Warren, 2231 Alexander Ave.

Mrs. Warren alleged she received a threatening telephone call at 6:15 p.m. Saturday, in which the caller threatened the lives of herself and a visitor in the home.

A second call about 7:30 p.m. threatened the two and Mrs. Warren's son and daughter. About 8 p.m., a man's car stopped in Mrs. Warren's driveway, but then drove away without incident. At 9 p.m., as the car passed the house, a shot was fired, it was alleged.

Police were unable to locate a suspect's car at that time. Mrs. Warren said that she had been invited, and information will be distributed on arthritis, glaucoma and anemia. Films will explain respiratory problems.

Two restaurant workers burned

Mrs. Connie Mitchell, 23, of 2540 Parkview Apts., and Bruce Carr, 19, of Edwardsville, remained hospitalized today for treatment of injuries received April 29 by an explosion that occurred in the kitchen at Kentucky Fried Chicken, 1508 Johnson Road.

Mrs. Mitchell is in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, with severe burns to both lower legs. Carr is in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville, where he was transferred following treatment here for burns to both elbows, his back and hips. Both are reported in satisfactory condition.

"Some increase may have been justified," he said, adding that he regards those that have been announced as too high.

Schultze voiced support for "somewhat more moderate increases" and said federal officials have contacted steel industry executives. "We hope the other companies review the situation," he concluded.

Republic, the nation's fourth largest producer, reported a $6,200,000 loss for the first quarter and cited "rapidly rising costs." It estimated that the price changes would raise its yearly revenue 6.5 per cent.

ADM, UNION TO RESUME NEGOTIATIONS

Negotiations are tentatively set to resume Monday, May 16, in St. Louis between officials of Archer Daniels Midland Co. and negotiators for 52 striking members of Longshoremen's Union Local 1706. A federal mediator is arranging the meeting, sources said this morning.

The meeting, to be held in St. Louis, will be to discuss a format for resolving a strike which has closed the ADM grain elevator and soybean processing plant on Cargill Road since April 1.

JA dinner this evening

Area high school students, who are members of Junior Achievement and business leaders who support the JA program will gather for the 28th annual "Future Unlimited" Banquet at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers tonight at 6.

Almost 2,000 adults and youth will attend. Charles F. Knight, chairman of the board of Emerson Electric Company, is the banquet chairman.

Scholarships totaling $40,000 will be awarded to 24 Achievers with excellent high school records and performance in Junior Achievement.

Industry awards will be given to JA companies which have performed in an outstanding manner throughout the 30-week program year which concludes today.

A pre-and post-dinner highlight will be full production and display of products of 12 Achievement companies in Stouffer's Exhibition Hall.

Girl Scout Troops entertain mothers

A mother-daughter banquet was hosted by Girl Scout Troops 180, 324, 314 and 663 from St. Elizabeth's School. A catered dinner was served in the cafeteria to approximately 120 people.

Cadette Troop 180 gave a skit in tribute to all the mothers. Brownies in Troop 663 were awarded the first of their Brownie B patches, "Be a Discoverer."

Troop leaders are, Mrs. Marie Plaintz, Mrs. Rose Nagy for Cadette Troop 180; Mrs. Betty DeRuntz, Mrs. Carmen Schwartz, Mrs. Marg Spitzmiller for Junior Troop 324; Mrs. Mary Lou Kwiatkowski, Mrs. Pat Loftus, Mrs. Pat Sherrills for Brownie Troop 314 and Mrs. Pam Ames, Mrs. Margaret Grobaski, Mrs. Pat Niles for Brownie Troop 663.

Each mother received a gift from her daughter.

Entertainment was furnished by Bob Boyd and the Checkerboard Square dancers. Boyd's mother also played a solo on her violin.

Tickets available for May house tour

An afternoon of special entertainment and a variety of arts and crafts show booths is planned in conjunction with the House Tour and Fair by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society to take place from 1 to 6 p.m. on Sunday, May 15.

Tickets for the event may be purchased for $2.50 in advance by calling Mrs. Judy Padgett at 876-0043 or Mrs. Lois Gunderson at 877-1277, or from any member of the organization. Tour tickets will also be available at each of the houses listed on the tour on May 15 at a cost of $3, it was announced by the president.

Mrs. Lybarger is circle hostess

Mrs. Marilou Lybarger, 1713 Mitchell Ave., entertained the Morning Circle of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, last week.

Mrs. Billie Bagi read a poem in conjunction with Mother's Day and gave the missionary names of the day.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Louise Thompson, leader and Mrs. Irma Taylor gave the devotions and lesson.

Mrs. Bagi will host the June 3 meeting, it was noted.

Briggs heads Long Lake fire board

Briggs is a former supervisor of Nameoki Township and was appointed to the fire board by the new township supervisor, Harold Davis, who resigned from the Long Lake fire board in order to accept the supervisor job.

Another new appointee to the fire trustee board, Art Theis, 2300 Arnold Drive, was selected as treasurer. Mrs. Irene Karlechik retained her position as board secretary and the trustees voted to retain Irvin C. Slate Jr. as the board's attorney.

A meeting was called for 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Long Lake firehouse to discuss routine business. It was noted future meetings will be held in the firehouse, since demolition has begun on the fire department's recreation hall, the former meeting place.

Mature student workshop

A Mature Student Workshop sponsored by General Studies and the Gerontology Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be held Monday, May 16, at 9 a.m.

The workshop, scheduled in the General Studies conference room in the Rendleman Building, will cover such topics as how an individual can get started if she or he is considering going back to school.

Open University, transfer credits, job market trends, career changes and updating as well as various university services will also be discussed.

In charge of the workshop is Louise Saunders, SIUE academic adviser, whose special interest is education for people in their mid-life, pre-retirement years.

Mrs. Saunders has held four workshops since 1976 for people from 20 to 60 years of age. She requests that those who wish to attend the workshop call her at 692-2242 or write in care of SIUE box 44.

SIUE women students not yet in majority but ranks growing

Student enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the current quarter is more or less the same as it has been for the past six years, with the major change in enrollment occurring in the increased number of women attending classes at the university.

Enrollment statistics from the Office of Admissions and Records show that 10,604 students are enrolled for the spring quarter. Robert Bruker, director, noted that average spring quarter enrollment for the past six years has been 10,675.

Total enrollment took a brief climb during 1972 and again in 1976. However, in most years, the spring quarter enrollment has hovered close to the six-year average.

The number of women enrolled during the spring quarter narrowed the difference between male and female enrollment significantly.

For the first time in six years, and possibly since SIUE was established, the number of women attending here is almost the same as the number of men.

There are 5,482 males enrolled during the current quarter, compared with 5,121 female students.

Statistics show that 6,408 males were enrolled during spring 1972, with 4,800 females. The following spring,' 5,966 males were enrolled, with only 4,542 female students.

During spring 1974, there were 5,694 males enrolled and 4,406 females. The next spring, male students numbered 5,969 and there were 4,658 females. Last year, 6,063 males and 4,951 females attended the university during the spring quarter.

"I believe that women don't feel as confined to the homemaker role as they once did," Ed Soliday, assistant director of admissions and records, said,' "and they see fulfillment in a college education."

Soliday said that if this trend continues a few more years, he anticipates larger enrollment of women attending the university than men.

A breakdown by classes shows that the current quarter enrollment includes 2,217 freshmen, 1,924 sophomores, 1,824 juniors, 2,220 seniors and 91 non-degree students.

At the graduate level, there are 2,197 students attending the University, along with 131 students enrolled in the SIUE School of Dental Medicine.

Another area where enrollment at SIUE has undergone significant change is in the increased number of students over 30 years of age.

This quarter, the number of over-30 students was slightly less, with 1,659 students attending classes.

Weintrub heads Reserve Officers' Missouri group

Arnold Weintrub, owner and pharmacist of the Hub Drug Store in downtown Granite City, has been elected and officially installed as the Department of Missouri president of the Reserve Officers Association.

The installation took place at the department's annual meeting at Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base near Kansas City.

The annual convention of delegates of the more than 2350-member department unanimously elected Weintrub, a Naval Reserve commander. He is commanding officer of PERSMOBTM 118, based at Lambert Field.

He is a graduate of the St. Louis Pharmacy College and of the Navy's Reserve courses at both the Armed Forces Staff College, Norfolk, Va., and the Naval War College, Newport, R. I.

He and his wife reside in Olivette in St. Louis County. Their daughter, Ellen, is a freshman at Kansas University. Their son, Mark, attends Ladue High School and their daughter, Marianne, attends Rohan Woods Grade School.

Arrest 3 in crackdown on cannabis use

In part of a continuing crackdown against students smoking marijuana near Granite City high schools before and after school, Granite City police arrested three youths in two separate incidents moments apart last week.

Officers first observed a group of youths who appeared to be smoking marijuana on the parking lot of Hill Brothers Shoes, 3020 Madison Ave., across from GCHS South, before school, and searched four youths, allegedly finding plastic bags of marijuana in the possession of two of them.

Charged with unlawful possession of marijuana were Daniel J. Portell, 17, of 3500 Johnson Road, and Danny Adamson, 17, of 2709 Ralph St.

Enroute to the police station with the two boys, the arresting officer noticed another boy smoking marijuana near the tennis courts at the rear of the school. He also was arrested and found to be a 16-year-old. Being a juvenile, he was charged with disorderly conduct and was released on a $35 bond.

Portell was released on a $1,000 recognizance bond and Adamson posted $50 cash bond and was released.

Appeals board, Plan commission to meet

Three annexations and two zoning change requests are to be considered at the regular meeting of the Granite City Plan Commission at 1:15 p.m. Thursday in the city offices at 2301 Adams Street.

The meeting will follow by one day the regular meeting at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday of the Granite City Board of Appeals, which is to consider five requests for zoning variances.

A request from Archie Lupardus for C-1 commercial zoning at 2441 Edwards St. is among items on Thursday's agenda for the Plan Commission. Lupardus hopes to operate a car polish and buff service on the property, which now is zoned R-3 for single family residential use.

The Plan Commission also is to consider a request from Robert Lowe for R-4 (two family) zoning rather than the present R-3 to construct a duplex at 2807 Marshall Ave.

The third request is from Mrs. Jessie Mitchell, 2325 Nameoki Road, requesting a C-1 commercial classification for 2325 Nameoki Road, which is in an R-3 district but presently is a store under a non-conforming use provision.

Properties which were used for businesses prior to the start of zoning here have been allowed to operate, although not conforming to the zoning. A zoning change is required when the type of business conducted changes.

Mrs. Mitchell has not yet said what type of business is planned.

The Plan Commission also will consider three requests for annexations in the 3000 block of Mockingbird Lane. Annexation requests have been received from William and Rose Marie Bone, 3012 Mockingbird; Robert and Bernadette Denkler, 3004 Mockingbird, and Steven and Brenda Rains, 3008 Mockingbird.

The Board of Appeals Wednesday will consider requests by Melvin Scott, 2409 Glen Place, for a swimming pool six feet from his side property line and Michael Pekarik, 2126 Johnson Road, for an attached garage one foot from the side property line.

Also, a request from David House, 2929 Iowa St., to construct a carport two feet from his side property line; Robert White Jr., 2225 Cardinal Ave., to construct a two-car garage three feet from his side property line, and Thomas Stuart, 3149 Jill Ave., to construct a garage four feet from his side property line.

Both the Plan Commission and the Board of Appeals make recommendations to the Granite City Council which then decides whether requests should be granted.

House budget chairman will speak in area

On May 16, shortly after Congress is scheduled to adopt the resolution which serves as a control for Congressional appropriations and taxation activities during the year, the chairman of the House Committee on the Budget will be on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to discuss the federal budget.

Robert N. Giaimo (D.-Conn.) is chairman of the committee which may well become one of the most powerful in Congress, according to Don McCabe, assistant professor of government and public affairs at SIUE.

Giaimo will make a public speech, "The Federal Budget: Its Implications for Educational Development and Change," Monday, May 16, at 2:30 p.m. in Science Building Room 1105. Prior to that, he will meet with McCabe's class on Public Financial Administration at 10:30 a.m. in Peck Building Room 3306.

Giamimo's committee is one of two, one each in the House and Senate, created in 1974 as part of far-reaching reforms designed to give Congress more effective control over the budgetary process.

McCabe said these committees were designed to provide Congress with the kind of total, comprehensive view of the budget which it had not previously had.

"As part of this process, these committees (in the House and Senate) must report by April 15 of each year a concurrent resolution setting budget targets and priorities for the coming fiscal year," McCabe said.

"These include a target for the total budget—as well as spending targets for individual areas such as defense, income security or natural resources and energy."

In addition, McCabe said, this resolution established targets for the revenues which must be raised during the year and sets the amount of the deficit or surplus.

Once voted by the entire Congress—it must be adopted by May 15—the resolution serves as a control for Congressional appropriations and taxation activities during the year.

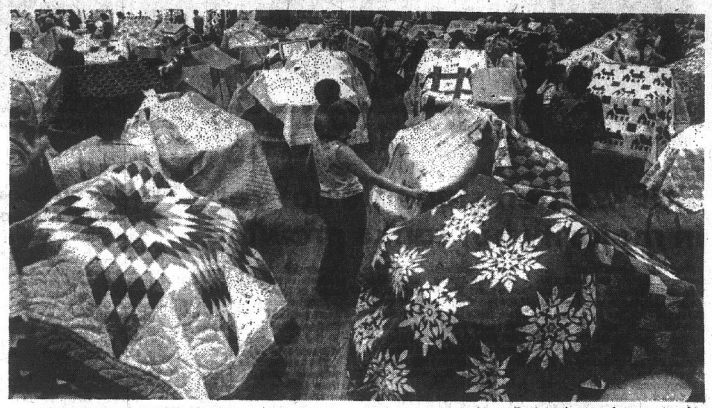

"This is the process in which Congress is now engaged," he said. "In fact, the House of Representatives has just sent the resolution back to Cong. Giaimo's committee for reconsideration. Thus, Mr. Giaimo will come here fresh from these important deliberations."

Giaimo, of North Haven, Conn., was elected to the 86th Congress in 1958.

He is a member of the Committee on Appropriations and its Subcommittees for the Department of Defense, Legislative Branch (Congress) and the District of Columbia; the Joint Committee on Congressional Operations; the Select Committee on Intelligence; and the House Commission on Information and Facilities.

He was elected chairman of the House Budget Committee in January of this year.

Hearings Thursday on zoning appeals

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct four on-site public hearings in Quad-City area townships Thursday on zoning requests.

The first hearing will be at 9 a.m. Thursday just off Old Route 66 two miles west of Route 157, where Albert Demster and Craig Blume are requesting B-4 wholesale business zoning for two acres for warehousing and storage of lighting equipment. The property is in an agricultural district of Chouteau Township.

At 9:25 a.m., the board will meet on Route 162 a quarter mile west of Route 111 and south on the township road where Arthur Ringering is requesting a special use permit to erect a pole-type structure in an R-3 single family residential district of Nameoki Township.

At 9:30 a.m. Thursday, the board will meet on Hill Avenue off Old Alton Road and Maryville Road where Juanita Barnes is requesting a special use permit in an R-3 district of Nameoki Township to establish and operate a dental laboratory.

The fourth hearing will begin at 10:10 a.m. next to 5188 Nameoki Road (Route 203) where Bruce David is requesting a special use permit for placement of a double-wide mobile home.

Crash report rule change being sought

Illinois motorists wouldn't have to report an auto accident to police unless damage amounted to $250 or more under a bill sponsored by State Rep. Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon).

Current laws require an accident report when damage totals $100. The bill last week passed the House and needs Senate approval and the governor's signature to become law.

"With today's inflated auto repair costs, a minor scratch in a minor accident can easily cost well over $100," Rep. Steele said. "Having to file a small accident report to the state for this type of accident is an inconvenience to the motorist and a nuisance.

"In many cases, it jeopardizes a driver's insurance coverage or forces an increase in his auto insurance rates.

"This legislation (HB 982) would also reduce the workload for the Department of Transportation," Rep. Steele added.

"They're currently working to alleviate an eight-week backlog in processing accident reports. The same kind of backlog occurs for local police officials who are now required to spend much of their time filling out minor accident reports."

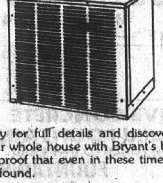

During House debate, Rep. Steele said in support of his bill: "This law hasn't been changed in 25 years. The filing of small nuisance reports is jeopardizing the insurance coverage of many of our citizens and, in some instances, causing the rates of others to unnecessarily go up. The $250 amount is a much more realistic figure in view of today's inflationary costs."

Steele said one state police official estimated that the actual cost to the state for each accident report filed is $200, considering the time spent by officers and clerical personnel and the use of equipment in filing such reports.

WATER PURIFICATION. After filter media are added, deep-bed filtering of water will take place in these concrete tanks being completed at Granite City Steel. Filtration is a key element in the water treatment plant, expected to start up in mid-year. It will remove suspended solids after breakpoint chlorination removes ammonia from the water. Following the filtration, sulfur dioxide injection will remove chlorine residuals and make the water completely acceptable by federal and Illinois Environmental Protection Agency standards, as well as much cleaner than it was when entering the GC Steel water system.

Visits by provost, business applicants

On-campus visits by candidates for the positions of vice-president and provost and vice-president for business affairs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville began Sunday, according to leaders of the search committees.

Jerry Hollenhorst, head of the provost search committee, said five candidates have been invited to the campus for meetings with the university community.

The business affairs search committee, headed by Robert Schultheis, has invited three candidates and there is a possibility that one additional candidate will be invited.

Paul Burtness, dean, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, May 11-13.

Leon E. Boothe, dean, College of Arts and Sciences, professor of history, George Mason University, Fairfax, Va., May 16-18.

Dale W. Lick, dean, School of Sciences and Health Professions, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, Va., May 18-20.

Douglas R. Picht, executive dean, San Jose State University, San Jose, Calif., May 8-10.

Lawrence W. Larson, vice-president and treasurer, Mills College, Oakland, Calif., May 11-13.

And Arnold G. Franke, lecturer, department of management, SIUE School of Business, and former assistant vice-president for business affairs at SIUE, May 15-17.

The standard itinerary for provost candidates will be to have dinner with the search committee the first evening; first day: breakfast with officers of the Faculty Senate, meetings with academic directors, deans' conference and faculty and staff, lunch with the vice-presidents, tours of Alton, East St. Louis and Wagner sites, and dinner with President Kenneth Shaw; second day: breakfast with the University Senate Executive Committee, meeting with students, open meeting, and lunch and final interview with the committee.

The meeting with students will be hosted by Laura Ricci, president of the Student Senate, in the Mississippi Room of the University Center from 8:30 to 10 a.m.

The open meeting, hosted by Steve Sanders, president of the University Senate, is scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to 12:15 noon in the area formerly occupied by the School of Business on the second floor of the University Center.

Similar itineraries are planned for the candidates for vice-president for business affairs, beginning with dinner with the search panel the first evening and continuing with meetings with constituency groups the next two days. Each of these candidates will be the guest at an open house in the area formerly occupied by the School of Business on the second floor of the University Center, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. of the first day.

Meetings include a session with student body officers from 8:45 to 9:30 a.m. of the second day. Each candidate will have dinner with the vice-presidents the evening of the first day and lunch with Pres. Shaw on the second day.

The search committees, which launched their activites at the direction of Dr. Shaw in January, accepted applications until March.

From 280 names, the vice-president and provost committee screened a group of 13 candidates for interviews at the St. Louis airport in April. The vice-president for business affairs committee received nearly 190 names and selected nine candidates for airport interviews, also during April.

Both committees plan to submit final recommendations to the president by June 1. He said he hopes the appointments can be finalized by July 1. Both must be confirmed by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Both positions have been filled by acting appointments since April 8, 1976. Lazerson, formerly dean of the School of Science and Technology, was named acting vice-president and provost after Dr. Andrew J. Kochman, who had held the position five years, was named acting president following the death of President John S. Rendleman on March 4, 1976.

James F. Metcalf, acting vice-president for business affairs, who also is university budget director, previously had been designated chief officer for business affairs in March 1976 following a reorganization in that area.

Lorene Sadrakula heads BPW

LORENE SADRAKULA
New BPW President

Mrs. Lorene Sadrakula, a teller at the First National Bank in Madison, was elected president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at its business meeting at Charlie's Restaurant.

She succeeds in the office, Mrs. Sylvia Wright.

Mrs. Sadrakula will be installed at the club's annual installation banquet, scheduled Wednesday, May 18, at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

Elected to serve with the new president in 1977-78 are:

A life-long resident of Madison, Mrs. Sadrakula has been employed at the Madison bank for the past three years. Previously, she worked at General Steel Industries for 30 years.

Mrs. Sadrakula is a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison. Her hobbies include gardening, sewing and crocheting.

She has been an active member of the Business and Professional Women's group for the past decade.

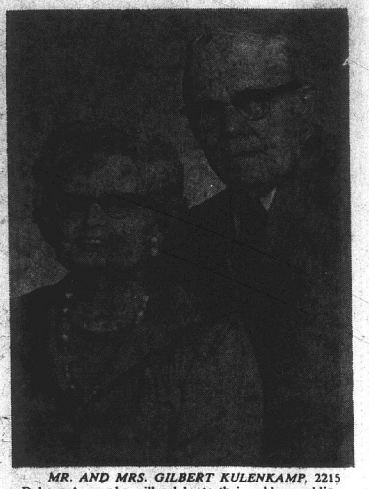

Her club involvements have been numerous and she has served as president-elect, first and second vice-presidnet, recording and corresponding secretary, and on the executive board as chairman of the Finance and Public Relations committee.

Mrs. Sadrakula has served as offical delegate to both the national and state BPW conventions and has attended state leadership workshops, conducted each year, and the Illinois BPW Federation's statewide legislative conference held each spring in Springfield.

Elected to serve on the club's governing board are: Rosalie Stearns and Dolores Klesh, three-year terms; and Ollie Derr, two-year term.

Remaining on the board are Hazel Rollins, Bette Nugent, Judith McCann and Louise Smith.

Reservations for the May 18 installation dinner will be accepted by Mrs. Delores Allen, at 876-5876, and Mrs. Pauline Weir, 452-7529.

MR. AND MRS. GILBERT KULENKAMP, 2215 Delmar Ave., who will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, May 15, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

'Perspectives on women'

May speakers scheduled for the "Perspectives on Women" lecture series at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have been announced by the Women for Women campus organization, sponsor of the series.

All lectures except on May 18 will be held in the Mississippi Room of the University Center at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

The lecture schedule is:

Wednesday, May 11 — Richard Millett, professor of history, speaking on "Women in Reform Movements in Pre-Civil War America."

May 17 — Betty Crowther, professor of sociology, "Professional Women."

May 18 — Margaret Simons, instructor of philosophy, "Simone de Beauvoir: Philosophy of Feminism," at 7:30 p.m. in the International Room of the University Center.

May 24 — Ray Eberle of Alton, a graduate assistant in history, "Socialism, Feminism and Reform: The St. Louis Experience in the Progressive Era."

May 26 — Amy Conger, assistant professor of art and design, "Women, Human Rights, Torture and Personal Experiences in Chile."

SINGING SHELLS Gospel Team. The Rev. Dwight Sheltrown and his family who will lead a "Gospel Sing" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Community Heights Assembly of God Church, located at Faith and Buxton Avenues. The public is invited to attend. No admission will be charged, but a free will offering will be accepted, the Rev. Jeff Smith, church pastor said.

Community Heights 'Gospel Sing'

The Singing Shells Gospel Team will visit the Community Heights Assembly of God Church, located at Faith and Buxton avenues, for a "Gospel Sing" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The Rev. Jeff Smith, Community Heights church pastor, said the nationally acclaimed group has made many television appearances in the United States and Canada.

The public is invited to attend, the minister said. No admission will be charged, but a free will offering will be received for this outstanding group, the Rev. Smith added.

Consisting of the Rev. Dwight Sheltrown and his family, the Singing Shells live a unique life, traveling about the country in their own converted Greyhound bus.

Their nine children usually have their schooling in a Sunday school classroom, tutored by their parents, while enrolled in a fully accredited correspondence school with their assigned teacher at the school, the local pastor explained.

The Sheltrowns have produced a number of long playing record albums and have traveled extensively throughout the country and Canada, singing in churches, high schools and at youth rallies.

The children are featured on instruments and vocal selections and their performance has captured the hearts of thousands who have heard them play across the nation, the Rev. Smith said.

Instruments used, including the cordovox, piano, bass, electric guitar and others, are blended together with the voices of the group to create a smooth and lovely sound, the local pastor noted.

Mrs. Pender gives lesson

An amusing reading entitled, "Revelies in Church" by Elizabeth Roller, and an article on "New Techniques for Praying" by the Rev. Charles Allen, was the lesson topic presented by Mrs. Augusta Pender at a meeting of the Honor Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The members met last week at the church for a morning quilting session followed by luncheon served by Mrs. Eva Evans.

Mrs. Lucy Weaver, circle leader, presided at the afternoon business meeting and reported 32 sick calls were made during the month.

The leader also urged the group to continue with the reading program planned for the United Methodist Women. She then gave a report of the monthly executive meeting.

Members recited the Lord's Prayer in closing. Others attending were Mildred Cundiff, Edith Etherton, Winifred Reimers and Pearl F. Campbell.

Methodist Women hear Mrs. Webb

The United Methodist Women met at the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, last week, with opening prayer by Mrs. Leoda Cobieon.

Mrs. Tennie Webb presented the program, "Mother's of the Bible," and read an article "She Started Mothers Day."

Final plans were made for the "Odds and Ends" booth for the Flea Market and Craft Show to be held on the church parking lot on May 14th.

The Women's Society will serve punch at the church on May 15 following a Cantata "Alleluia," which will be presented by Trinity United Methodist Church choir.

Plans to attend May Fellowship Day luncheon at Niedringhaus Church were completed.

Dessert was served by Mrs. Viola Brooks to Mrs. Violet Miller, Mrs. Grace Lensing, Mrs. Tennie Webb, Mrs. Pauline Squires, Mrs. Leoda Cobieon, Mrs. Ruby Redman, Mrs. Robbie Donley, Mrs. Virgie Settle, Mrs. Madora Shaw, Mrs. Mary Beasley and Mrs. Fern SanSoucie.

Gilbert Kulenkamps to mark 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kulenkamp, 2215 Delmar Ave., will observe their golden wedding anniversary at Wesley Hall, of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, on the afternoon of Sunday, May 15, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The event is being planned by their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stethen and family of High Ridge, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kulenkamp and family of Peoria, Ill.

Mr. Kulenkamp and his wife, the former Evaline Denby of Carlinville, Ill., were married in a Springfield, Ill. Methodist Church.

They moved to Granite City in 1942. Mr. Kulenkamp was a locomotive engineer at Granite City Steel until he retired. His wife, taught school in this area for many years, with longest service at Mitchell School.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend and the honoree's request gifts be omitted, according to a family spokesman.

Webster School pupils name king and queen

The event opened with dinner served by the fifth grade students followed by John Apperson entertaining the group with a magic act.

Other members of the royal court were Debbie Cardwell, Gilbert Williams, Becky Jackson, Billy Hincy, Ida Hurst and Terry Means. Each carried crowns, flowers and gifts for the royal couple.

Net carnations created by the sixth grade girls were given to their mothers, and hand crochet flowers by Mrs. Schwertzmann were presented to the king and queen. The king and queen's robes were made by Mrs. Glenda DeGeare and Mrs. Suzanne Hazelwood.

Mrs. Loretta Cardwell, Mrs. Phyllis McGinnes and Mrs. Sandra Pagen were in charge of decorating the gym. They used red and white streamers, balloons and silver stars with the sixth graders pictures attached to the stars.

Gifts were also presented to Kenneth Cann and Louis Mehelic, both sixth grade teachers and the principal, from the pupils and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald DeGeare.

Others who assisted with the event were Glenda DeGeare, Juanita Spray, Loretta Cardwell, Judy Hieman, Ruth Delosic, Karen Hare, Martha Mize, Sandra Pagan.

After the festivities the king and queen presented their bouquets to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McGinness and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Travasi.

Chapter hosts mothers event

Mothers and grandmothers of members of Xi Epsilon Chi, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, were entertained at a Mothers Day party this week held in the home of Mrs. Barbara Hente, 3708 Joyce Ave.

Entertainment for the event was a "wacky" fashion show presented by several of the members.

A business meeting of the chapter was held in the Henter home with Mrs. Carol Cathey, president, presiding.

Members also honored Janet Monaghan, named "girl of the year" for the chapter.

Miss Marilyn Lumpkins gave a report on a Founder's Day dinner held in Alton, which she attended. Linda Koenig gave the program for the evening.

MR. AND MRS. MARK NOVICH whose wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Madison. The bride is the former Miss Marilyn Lee Bradley, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Bradley, 81 Morris Court.

(Gravesmen Photography)

Marilyn Bradley weds Mark Robert Novich

Miss Marilyn Lee Bradley became the bride of Mark Robert Novich in an evening candlelight ceremony on April 15 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Father Conrad Motola, before an altar banked with spring blossoms in yellow and white hues with touches of greenery. Burning yellow candles in branched candelabra illuminated the white carpeted aisle.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Bradley, 81 Morris Court. The groom is a son of Mrs. Mary E. Novich, 921 Lee Ave., Madison.

Organist Mrs. Helen Ann McGarrahan accompanied vocalists, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Kesterson, an uncle and aunt of the bride. They sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "The Wedding Song" and The Lord's Prayer.

Miss Connie Maxfield presided over the guest book at a reception held after the service at Croatian Home and Miss Carla Maxfield, distributed rice packets.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Bradley wore a long white A-line gown fashioned of nylon organza, and complemented with a fingertip veil edged with tiny Venise lace and secured with a lace Juliet cap, encrusted with seed pearls.

A Granite City High School North graduate, the bride also attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She was a member of Masque and Gavel, and Modern Music Masters, and is employed at the Do-It-Yourself Center.

The groom graduated from Madison High School and Belleville Area College. He also attended SIUE and is employed at Ravanelli's Reataurant.

Mrs. Dean Graf, president of the Elkettes Club, welcomed 127 members and guests at the annual mother and daughter banquet, and introduced a new member Mrs. Delores Metcalf.

Hostesses for the cocktail hour were Mrs. Betty McGinty and Mrs. Sally Koval.

Mrs. Ruth Malottki designed and made the table centerpieces of pink silk rose buds and greenery arranged in white wicker baskets. Favors were miniature baskets of flowers. Norbert Homyer created the wall decorations for the event.

Chaplain Elmina Trachsel offered the opening meditations and entertainment for the evening was provided by the Eaglesaire Kitchen Band.

Mrs. Graf announced Don Parente, chief of the fire department, will be the guest speaker at the June 7 meeting. The Elks pinochle group will meet at 2 p.m. May 29 at the lodge, she added.

Those winning the centerpieces as prizes for the evening were Ceil Marcus, Colleen Roderick, Carolyn Yates, Mildred Greathouse, Delores Metcalf, Agnes Roderick, Jewell Frizzell, Karen Malottki, Mary Ann Randall, Elmina Trachsel, Vickie Mertz, Alma Paschedag, Jewell Pomeroy, Mary Ann Mertz, Bobbie Sykes and Wilma Manoogian.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD KUZMA whose wedding was solemnized at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church. Formerly Miss Bambi Lee Signaigo, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Signaigo, 3705 Fair Oaks Drive.

Kuzma-Signaigo nuptials at Nameoki Presbyterian

Miss Bambi Lee Signaigo, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Signaigo, 3705 Fair Oaks Drive, and Ronald Frank Kuzma, a son of Mrs. Genevive Kuzma, 2406 Grand Ave., exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight setting on April 16 at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church.

Wedding selections played prior to the service included "Colour My World" and "Only You."

The groom chose Ray Carter as best man. Mark Elmore and Steven Krause served as ushers. Candlelighters were Kim Benner and Linda Rinehart.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Kuzma at a reception held in the church fellowship hall, immediately following the service.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Signaigo is also a graduate from Illinois Technical Institute and is employed as a key punch operator at Biltwell Co., St. Louis.

The groom attended Ranken Technical Institute, St. Louis and currently works as a diesel mechanic at ERB Equipment in Mitchell.

TREATED FOR CUTS

Jesse Bryant, 22, of East Carondelet, Ill., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:55 a.m. Wednesday by city ambulance. He suffered cuts to the side of his face. Sutures were administered, x-rays were taken and he was released.

Bethany Class hosts banquet

The "Good Old Days" was the theme of the mother and daughter banquet hosted by the Bethany Class of the First Baptist Church of Madison, last week.

In keeping with the theme kerosene lamps, old fashioned bonnets and bouquets of spring flowers were used to decorate the tables.

The invocation was given by a guest, Lucille Veach, and the welcoming address was by President Gertrude Ashford.

Mrs. Vasta Williams, class teacher, presented the devotional entitled, "Appreciation of My Mother and Mothers of the World." An old fashioned reading, "When God Created Mothers" was recited by Mary Link.

Members and guests participated in singing several songs followed by Linda Harris reading a poem, "A Mother Is Love." The class history album was exhibited by Naomi James.

Others attending were Treva Williams, Ann Holloway, Marguerite Centko, Janice Ashford, Ethel Stone, Grace Hamilton, Karen Lassen, Bernice Whitten, Elva Jean Weiss, Debbie Link and son Terry, Peggy Inman, Jan Bain, Pam Sykes, Virginia Ditch.

GC 4-H'ers cook up winning entries

Thirty-three Madison County 4-H members participated in a county food demonstration contest. Youths in the advanced contest were competing for trips to the Illinois State Fair.

Although the number who may attend the fair will not be known until mid-June, the judges did rank the top 12 presentations. Starting at first place, the top demonstrators in the advanced contest were:

Other 4-H members participating in the cooking contest were: Dina Long, Loretta Paschedag, Shannon Bushue, Camie Mercer and Mary Loftus, all of Granite City; Susan Gvillo, East Alton; Kathy Ohren, New Douglas; and Lisa Richards, Highland.

Extension advisors who judged the advanced contest were Miss Carol Crouch of St. Clair County and Mrs. Linda Manton of Montgomery County.

Thirteen 4-hers, ages 9-12, participated in the beginning contest. Due to their age, these youths may not compete for the state fair, but they do receive ribbons and premium money.

The judges gave four special recognition for A-plus demonstrations. They were: Gina Graham and Nancy Dimitroff of Granite City, Laura Hoffman of Collinsville and Grant Barth of Highland.

Other youths receiving A's were Lisa Griffey and Jennie Little, Granite City; Sandy Goetz, Collinsville; and Rosalie Rogier, Highland.

Those receiving B ratings were Kelly Ault, Penny Strum and Amy Patterson of Granite City and Ginger Bjornson and Marcia Schneider of Highland.

Three junior leaders judged the beginning contest. They were: Cheri Reynolds, Alhambra; Cindy Cornwell, Edwardsville, and Susan Gvillo, East Alton.

Shrine parade June 7; Circus to be June 8-10

Floats entered by area organizations in the annual Shrine Circus parade scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 7, in Granite City will be judged in two categories and receive special trophies for first through fourth place, according to Tom Hundley and Kelly Hogan, co-chairmen of the event.

The prize-winning trophies will be displayed this week at the First Granite City National Bank until time of the parade.

Two themes for which entries will be eligible for the prizes are "Circus" theme and "Holidays of America" theme, the parade co-chairmen Kerry Ervay and George Stevenson, announced.

Circus performances locally will be on Wednesday, June 8, Thursday, June 9, and Friday, June 10, at the Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki Road.

Any club or organization is invited to participate in the parade, the chairmen reported. For more information residents may contact Hundley at 877-1946, Hogan at 452-3394, Ervay at 877-0228 or Stevenson at 931-4219.

On June 4, 5 and 6, there will be performances at Belle-Clair Fairgrounds, Belleville, with two on June 4, three on June 5 and one on June 6.

C. A. "Jack" Dempsey, chief rabban of Ainad Temple, has been named chairman of the entire program and Assistant Rabban R. H. "Dick" Ervay has been chosen as co-chairman of this year's circus production.

Thirty-eight Shrine Clubs will participate in the circus this year. They cover all of Southern Illinois, and are of Ainad Temple which has 8,400 nobles on its membership rolls.

District Institute, Aug. 24; half-day of school and half-day district meeting, Aug. 25; Labor Day, school dismissed Sept. 5; Columbus Day, school dismissed Oct. 10; Business, Industry and Education (BIE) Day, Oct. 11; Veterans Day, school dismissed Nov. 11; Thanksgiving holidays, Nov. 24-25; Christmas holidays, school dismissed at the close of school Dec. 21.

First day of school after New Year's 1978, Jan. 2; District Institute, Feb. 17; spring vacation, March 20-23; Good Friday, March 24; School begins on March 27 after Easter; Memorial Day, May 30; last day of school, June 5.

It was explained that school may be dismissed prior to June 5, depending on the number of emergency days used during the year.

Maybe you don't make a $3,000 loan every day, but we do.

Homeowner loans, too.

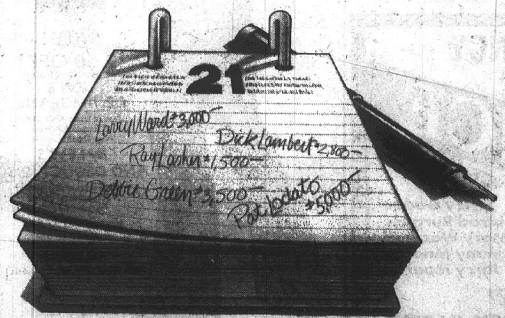

When you're after really large amounts, the equity in your home is a valuable asset. You can use that equity to back very sizable loans from us. And that's nice to know.

Next time you want money, whatever the reason, think of us. If you're more comfortable feeling you can depend on us for small loans, we really don't mind. Because you can.

But remember, we mostly think big.

Career awareness

University Placement Service is sponsoring a Career Awareness Week the week of May 16 at SIUE.

David R. Van Horn, UPS director, said the purpose of the week will be to call attention to the resources and services Placement Service can offer the total university community.

On May 16 and 17, Placement will have an open house from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for students and the community to visit the office and see what services and resources are offered. Refreshments will be served on these two days.

During the remainder of the week, members of the University Placement staff will speak to classes and conduct workshops on job strategies, career planning and skill identification.

The workshops, dates, locations and times are:

Job Hunting Strategy — May 18, Kickapoo Room 9:30 a.m.; May 19, Kickapoo Room, 10:30 a.m.; May 20, Ohio Room, 1:30 p.m.

Resume Development — May 18, Kickapoo Room, 10:30 a.m.; May 19, Kickapoo Room, 1:30 p.m.; May 20, Ohio Room, 2:30 p.m.

Skill Identification — May 18, Kickapoo Room, 11:30 a.m.; May 19, Kickapoo Room, 11:30 a.m.; May 20, Ohio Room, 10:30 a.m.

Governmental Careers — May 19, Kickapoo Room, 2:30 p.m.

Teaching Careers — May 20, Ohio Room, 11:30 a.m.

Those wanting further information may contact the Placement Office in Rendleman Building Room 0233 or call 692-2800.

Cosmetic change in Sanitary District won't prevent abuses

Not much is accomplished, perhaps, by saying, "We told you so." But we did.

When we urged separation of the Quad-City area and East St. Louis area segments of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District along the Madison-St. Clair Counties boundary, the objective was to make that taxing agency more accountable.

With part of the five-member board elected in one county and part in the other, there was no single constituency to react favorably or unfavorably to specific board actions and policies. The two widely-separated communities had differing mechanisms for achieving consensus and there was no way to coordinate their responses to abuses of hiring and buying procedures.

Rep. Monroe Flinn and East St. Louis interests who rejected trying for such a solution instead backed largely cosmetic changes. The old district was phased out and a new one, the Metro-East Sanitary District, was created.

Accountability that otherwise might have been achieved by making the board positions appointive was lost by continuing the divided, bi-county structure. The lone supposed improvement was the new requirement that a professional engineer would have to be hired as administrator, with less direct participation by the policy-setting board.

Now that the five-member board has been brought to full strength, with the St. Clair County Board collectively choosing members rather than the board chairman, the Quad-Cities again find themselves outnumbered.

The final (third) St. Clair board member has been convicted and sentenced on a gambling charge.

The man then chosen as executive director has past political involvement, having been a frequent candidate and having headed the State Community College board. He in the past filed for bankruptcy and was a Levee Board attorney.

There is concern here that one of the worst Levee Board practices, payroll padding — curtailed for a long period under the leadership of such board members as Venice Mayor William M. Ebersoldt — will now reappear. Quad-Cityans may have been partly at fault for such abuses long ago but not in recent years.

Property taxpayers simply cannot afford a return to "business as usual," with numerous levee jobs filled but little work done.

The chickens have come home to roost once more, regarding some St. Clair Countyans' cavalier attitude toward the Sanitary District. And, with their assessments growing rapidly, Quad-Cityans are certain to have to foot a big part of the bill.

The unnatural marriage of two different areas, one putting up a lot of the money and the other guiding the spending, ought to be ended. The "facelift" didn't work.

Impressively sponsored health services bill has bad flaws

Comments by Collinsville Herald — Vic Canty, St. Clair County Board chairman, has drawn the attention of the news media to a major tax increase that the legislature is proposing to pass on to the citizens unbeknownst to most of them.

Companion bills sponsored by prestigious Senator Terry Bruce (SB 827) and House Speaker William A. Redmond and 176 other House members may well sail through to passage without serious problems. With that kind of backing, they appear to be set to pass.

They shouldn't.

They require every county to set up a County Health Services Board. Without referendum (except a "backdoor" referendum that would have to be sought by ten per cent of the voters) the county board would impose a 15 cents per hundred tax.

It would not be required to, but might, add a 10 cents per hundred mental health tax, which again would be without referendum unless ten per cent of the voters petitioned for an election to discontinue it.

There are provisions now for creation of county health departments by referendum, and some welfare-conscious groups in Madison County have agitated periodically and ineffectively for creation of such a district, but it can only be done now by referendum.

The new department would supersede other county tuberculosis arrangements.

The new law would require the counties to create the department. And to pay for it.

If they didn't do it by the added tax, they would have to pay for it out of the general county fund.

But they would have no choice.

Big counties like St. Clair and Madison might have some need for a health services department empowered to investigate, enforce and carry out programs and recommend standards, and own property and deal with tuberculosis and mental health, and contract for health services.

Perhaps they ought to have the option of choosing to create and pay for such services, as they may do on limited scale now, or so we thought.

Requiring small counties that have a hard time providing the basic county services, to create a new department that could not be of a scale to be worthwhile, is wrong.

Laetrile might lull patients into omitting other treatment

Laetrile, a medication made from apricot pits . . . is it a mirale cure for cancer? Quad-Cityans are among those who have faced such questions and reacted by traveling afar to obtain Laetrile treatment.

The problem with cured victims has nothing to do with their own personal medical histories. Many who took Laetrile also received extensive cobalt treatment or chemotherapy. Whatever portion or portions of their treatment proved successful, they are happy and grateful.

Concern has developed now that so many patients have flocked to legislative panels to tell their stories. They seek government sanction of Laetrile, and have succeeded in achieving it in Indiana.

The problem is that, if Laetrile is not effective but many future cancer victims nevertheless believe in it, they may narrow their recovery prospects by taking it and omitting radiation or chemicals or surgery or other recognized medical techniques.

This would be tragic and surely should not be encouraged, no matter how deeply various recovered patients may feel about the possible reasons for their cure.

It is noteworthy that Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the polio vaccine, said Saturday in Decatur at a Central Illinois world affairs conference that Laetrile should not be legalized. "Since it failed to qualify as safe and effective, it should not qualify legally in our country," he said, adding that it could set a precedent for authorizing other drugs that might be unsafe, ineffective and capable of misleading the public.

Says no vote irregularities occurred

To the Editor:

I was a poll challenger in the Venice School District election at Precinct Two.

In my opinion, the greatest thing that could have happened was the impounding of the ballots.

I strongly feel that, once the official poll book and the affidavits have been examined and reviewed by the court and all parties concerned, the thoughts of wrongdoing will be lifted, and the parties who were accused will be vindicated.

While I was a poll challenger, I did not see or witness any irregularities other than seeing the other poll challenger with a walkie-talkie, and noting where he was sitting in the polling place.

However, I didn't challenge the walkie-talkie.

I did challenge the location where he was sitting, for I thought that he was sitting too close to the judges and the affidavits and other election materials.

I think it's a gigantic tragedy when losers can't be losers and winners can't be winners, without someone trying to create charges and allegations against voters, judges and candidates.

I also hope that after the truth has been revealed, that an investigation will be continued to determine whether an inaccurate image has been created against the people, voters and candidates of Eagles Park Acres and Venice.

I disagree with the allegations that 35 persons voted twice, six voted three times or one person voted four times.

No person tried to buy votes. No one voted at home. None other than authorized persons were in the poll after it closed.

No money was offered to anyone for the turning of a head so that wrongdoing could take place.

No matter what happens, let's keep on voting in a large number, even if some are sick, crippled, blind or deaf.

Someone or a number may not like the way some of us vote, but they cannot stop it.

Doubts allegations in Nameoki suit

To the Editor:

This is in reply to the allegations as set forth in a lawsuit, as mentioned in your article, "Suit by 5 candidates," May 2.

Count One is correct. There are more than 800 registered voters in Nameoki Township Precinct 6.

In fact, this is the lowest number we've had in five or six years.

If this precinct should have been split, why didn't Mr. Whitsell as supervisor and a member of the County Board have this done many years ago when we had just under 1,000 registered voters? Or was it legal as long as he and his party were winning?

Jerry Adams was in our polling place after the polls closed. He came in immediately before the doors were locked. He also presented proper credentials to the judges.

He has been a poll-watcher in our precinct on several occasions and always conducts himself in a gentlemanly manner. That's something I can't say about every poll-watcher we have had in the past.

If he made a comment, it must have been a whisper because we cannot recall any remark he made.

How many times has Mr. Whitsell made an appearance in our polling place to ask the count? He has no business coming into the Precinct 6 polling place, but he did it.

Ballot boxes taped? Taped with what? Scotch tape? The lid on that glorified 30-gallon metal garbage can was supposed to be taped?

During the balloting, the lid on our "ballot box" was secured with two locks. Were we supposed to tape up the empty can after we removed the ballots?

Our ballots were wrapped in the brown paper and securely tied with heavy twine which had been provided for us. If that package was to be taped, why were we not informed of this unusual procedure?

At any rate, every ballot in our precinct was properly counted and returned to the township office.

All five of those filing the suit lost the election. Why don't they stop the nit-picking now?

Perhaps in some precincts, some of the alleged "irregularities" have been going on for years. Are they permissible if those suing are on the winning team?

A rose is a rose. An irregularity is an irregularity.

We judges in Precinct 6 are educated in the election process, attending all training sessions provided for us.

We believe in the democratic system of government. And we work at the polls in order to help maintain honest in our precinct.

Remember, Mr. Whitsell, Mr. Madison, Mrs. Gieson, Mr. Pervan and Mrs. Hawkins, when you point an accusing finger at someone else, three of the fingers on that very hand are pointing back at you.

Area's future depends on Columbia

To the Editor:

The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority is responsible for developing a new major airport to serve the St. Louis region at the Columbia-Waterloo site, which has been approved by the federal government.

The major expansion of St. Louis's role in the operations of American Airlines is further evidence of the need to move forward promptly in acquiring the Columbia-Waterloo site.

There are signs on many fronts that the pause in air traffic expansion of recent years has given way to a new growth trend.

These developments confirm our previous findings that the saturation at Lambert will occur in the 1980s.

Bear in mind that Secretary of Transportation Brock Adams, in his temporary decision on suspending federal funding for site acquisition at Columbia-Waterloo, warned of capacity problems at Lambert by 1990.

This warning was based on an optimistic view of Lambert's potential for improvement, coupled with forecasts which were the most pessimistic and which obviously did not anticipate such expansion as American's 44 per cent increase in St. Louis flights.

We should take very seriously the words of Blake W. Schultz, American's general manager for St. Louis.

He said last week, "This is a historic step for the future of commercial aviation in St. Louis.

"The new connecting patterns firmly establish the city as a major airlines crossroads.

"If the patterns are successful, then St. Louis could become as large a center as Chicago and Dallas-Fort Worth."

There is no way that Lambert can be improved to serve that kind of traffic. Chicago's O'Hare and the Dallas-Fort Worth airports are among the world's largest.

As Secretary Adams pointed out, "I cannot ignore the clear danger signals flowing from the recent studies of Lambert Airport capacity and demand." The inevitability of Columbia-Waterloo remains — and the future of St. Louis depends on the new facility.

Thus, St. Louis has a unique opportunity and a challenge but unfortunately it cannot be met at Lambert.

New locks needed, not a new study

To the Editor:

There is no reason for delay in acting on the proposed new Locks and Dam 26 on the Mississippi River at Alton.

Farmers oppose the position of U.S. Transportation Secretary Brock Adams, who recommended to a U.S. Senate subcommittee May 2 that an 18-month engineering study be made before deciding whether to repair or replace this deteriorating water traffic facility.

The story of Locks and Dam 26 has been told and retold and rolled over and told again.

The Farm Bureau has been on record for many, many months in support of a new Locks and Dam 26 at Alton, for the very obvious reason that we need a reliable structure to move our commodities down the river and commerce back up the river.

The project has been studied by the Corps of Engineers. The Senate has been in favor of a study and they've studied it.

The House has been in favor of a study and they have studied it. And now, we have a new director of Transportation, Brock Adams, who said let's study it again for 18 months.

Fiddlesticks! It's been studied enough.

We've spent millions of dollars on studies. The facts are before us. Let's act upon it.

Let's have a new locks and dam constructed.

Now, in the final week of April, the secretary of Agriculture, Bob Bergland, has said, "I endorse the position of a new Locks and Dam 26."

It is a shame that we cannot proceed, because each day that goes by is a costly day for us.

Another 18 months would be further delay, and we know we're going to need 11 years for construction once construction starts.

If this 18 months were to be reality, we're talking about 12 or 13 years.

HAROLD B. STEELE
President
Illinois Farm Bureau

Truck no problem in a neighborhood

To the Editor:

Regarding the April 25 letter about a noisy truck on Lee Avenue, the writer said a tractor-trailer with a refrigeration unit was parked across the street from 1 p.m. on a Wednesday to 9:45 a.m. on a Thursday — 20 hours and 45 minutes.

The sleepless writer leads us to believe the driver went to his own neighborhood for a restful night. Anyone with common sense or knowledge of trucks couldn't buy this story.

A trucker with a coveted "refer" isn't wanting to sit around and wait for the perishables to turn into what trucks call the load in the first place — garbage. You just don't go off and leave a loaded truck unattended for long.

The temperature must be checked and maintained. If the refrigerator quits, the trucker can't sit back and say, "I'll take care of it later."

If it was empty and the truck is going to sit 20 hours, he'd shut it off. Diesel is too costly.

Restful night? It wouldn't be, unless he posted a guard. Strange, how loads have disappeared or, even worse, whole trucks.

The noise — is it really that bad? The unit doesn't make much of a noise difference, but a truck has to idle when the unit is running.

When my husband comes in from a trip late at night, the neighbors don't know he's home until they leave for work and see the truck.

We've had it running in the driveway when making repairs. The next-door neighbors say they don't hardly notice.

We have an electrical plug for the winter, to keep the oil temperature up. You must let it run, plug it in, or work hard to get it started in the cold.

Even when we've left in the early hours of the morning, no one has complained. And our neighbors have good ears.

If they had a complaint, they would have consulted us before crucifying all truckers for an error in which they had no part.

"Sleepless" doesn't mind trucks loading or unloading. He can enjoy the benefits. He can go buy anything — meat, vegetables, clothing, sports items, etc. They got here via truck.

Ship it in, ship it out, but he objects to any truckers living in Granite City. What would he have us do? Sell our home and start our own community?

He wrote that he talked to a retired alderman. Why bother him?

Talk to the one causing the disturbance. Truckers are usually friendly and helpful; you might get faster results.

Varied information at handicapped fair

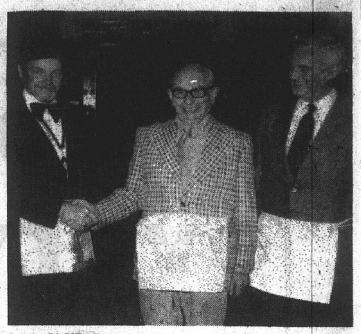

Plans are completed for a service fair for the handicapped that will be held at Coolidge Junior High School Saturday from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Over 35 organizations will present information on many of the special needs and problems that plague the handicapped in today's society.

Information available will include specialized health services for the handicapped, special education schools, the Bi-State Agency's elderly and handicapped reduced fare program, youth services, free dental checkups and advice, and lead poisoning testing for children from two to four years old.

Admission is free and the fair will be open to all residents of the St. Louis metropolitan area. It is sponsored by the Parents for Special Education and by the Madison County Region I Special Education District.

Purpose of the service fair is to help find solutions for the handicapped as to where they can go for special therapy, equipment and other needs, the service fair coordinator (451-9632) said.

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)

Q. What government funds are available to help pay for nursing care at the federal, state or local level?

A. Together, the Medicare and Medicaid programs are now paying about two-thirds of the nation's nursing home bill.

Most of this comes from Medicaid, a federal-state program financing medical assistance to those who do not have the resources to pay their own way.

In Illinois, more than 40,000 residents of nursing homes receive Medicaid support.

The homes are reimbursed for their services by the State Department of Public Aid according to the intensity of care provided.

Medicare's coverage of nursing home treatment is also limited to 100 days.

The State Department of Public Health licenses nursing homes, shelter care homes for the aged and certifies them for participation in Medicare and Medicaid.

At the local level, townships are authorized to enter into agreements with long-term care facilities to purchase nursing care for the elderly poor. Townships may use general assistance funds for this purpose. Counties have the power to establish county nursing homes and to levy taxes to support their operations.

Q. My doctor has released me from the hospital to a nursing home. What about Medicare coverage in a skilled nursing facility?

A. Sometimes patients no longer need all the services that hospitals provide, but still need daily skilled nursing or rehabilitation services as in-patients.

In these cases, the doctor may transfer a patient from the hospital to a skilled nursing facility that participates in Medicare.

Participating facilities are staffed and equipped to furnish skilled nursing care, rehabilitation services, and other related health services.

They are required to meet certain health, safety, and professional standards and they must have and adhere to written policies regarding the rights of patients. In some facilities, only certain sections participate in Medicare.

Lieutenant Governor O'Neal's senior action centers in Springfield and Chicago help with information, tax rebates, public aid, homestead exemptions, housing, social services, nutritional programs, social security, supplementary income, crime, Medicaid, transportation, senior rights, consumer complaints and any other concerns.

Write the center at 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago 60601 or 3 West Old Town Mall, Springfield 62701 with questions or complaints about any government agency or program.

Statewide the toll-free number is 800-252-6565.

Lucco urging Natural Resources Department

At a meeting of the Illinois Environmental Council last week in Springfield, Rep. Joe Lucco (D-Edwardsville) stressed a need for common effort by environmentalists and energy proponents to "meet the challenge of insuring adequate energy supplies without harming the environment."

Lucco outlined a plan for reorganization of state agencies developed by the Illinois Energy Resources Commission, describing it as creating "the potential for coordination, unified effort and efficient resolution of the difficult and critical energy and environmental problems facing the state."

The reorganization, being considered by the House Committee on State Government Organization, would create a new Department of Natural Resources by consolidating the state's present environmental and energy agencies. The committee will hold a hearing on the proposal this week.

"With the present structure, there is almost unbelievable duplication and agencies fighting against each other. No effective energy or environmental policy can be implemented with this present fragmented structure. We need to get it together," Lucco said.

Among the agencies included in the consolidation, according to Lucco, would be the Department of Conservation, Department of Mines and Minerals, Environmental Protection Agency and Pollution Control Board. Ten agencies or division would be consolidated in all.

Wholesaler honoree heads new foundation

Jul M. Fischer Sr., newly-elected president of the new Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Foundation, has been selected as one of seven recipients of the Time magazine Distinguished Wholesaler Award.

He is president of Jul M. Fischer Distributors, Inc., one of the largest beer and liquor wholesalers in Southern Illinois, with six branch offices. A former president of the Illinois Jaycees, Fischer has also served with the American Red Cross and East St. Louis Toastmasters.

He is currently senior vice-president of Belleville Memorial Hospital and formerly was vice president of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, United Fund and Illinois Junior Achievement. He is also a trustee of Lincoln College in Lincoln, Ill.

South crowns new May queen

Lisa St. Cin, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Mary) St. Cin, was crowned the Granite City High School South May queen at the school's May Festival Friday evening in the Memorial Gymansium at South High.

First attendents to the queen were Sandy Benson and Jane Friederich and Second Attendents were Tami Terrell and Sue Bury.

The five girls were nominated by the senior class and the queen and attendent designations were decided by the entire student body on April 1, with the results a secret until Friday evening.

The queen and her attendents took honored positions in the center of the gym floor.

Queen St. Cin then reigned over the festivities, which included musical numbers by vocal groups and the band. School organization presented plays for the entertainment of the queen and her subjects.

The 1977 May queen is a business and art major and, upon graduation, hopes to go to work for an airline or in some occupation where she can travel.

She is secretary of the South Future Secretaries Association and secretary-treasurer of the art club. She is a member of St. Margaret Mary Church.

The annual week-long salute to spring will include Saturday, May 14, concerts by "Nektar" and "Flame" at 7:30 p.m. at the Outdoor Performing Arts facitilty. Tickets are $4.50 for lawn seating and $4.50 to $6.50 for tent seats.

On Tuesday, May 10 following a parade performance by the SIUE Kazoo Marching Band on the mall, a day full of contests will be held. The comedy team of Edmonds and Curly will lead the events beginning at 10:30 a.m. outside the University Center.

Activities will include a marathon kissing contest, pie eating contest, the annual Alpha Phi Omega trike race and a special wheelcair obstacle course provided by the Easter Seal Society and sponsored by the Disabled Students Association.

On Wednesday, contests will start at 9:30 and include a turtle contest to see who can eat the most peppers in a one-minute period.

From 12:30 Wednesday the rock band "Nichels" will perform on the Hairpin Drive. While listening to the music, Springfesters can enjoy an annual favorite, a king-size banana split built in a canoe by the University Center Board.

This Wednesday evening, those still in a party mood can rock to the music of "Children" in the Meridian Ballroom. The concert begins at 8 and tickets will be sold at the door.

On Wednesday through Saturday, an old-fashioned carnival with rides and booths will be held on the fairgrounds outside the University Center.

Booths will include everything from the Delta Sigma Pi "dead man's hand" card game to a booth sponsored by Alpha Sigma Tau featuring corn-on-the-cob and bagels.

Thursday's contests will begin at 10 a.m. at the Hairpin and include an egg toss team event, a water fight with equipment provided by the Edwardsville Fire Department and a treasure hunt, with the winner receiving refreshments at the Faculty Club.

As part of the activities, the Faculty Club is sponsoring an all-university Springfest "beer garden" from noon to 4 p.m. Thursday. Barbecue and refreshments will be available. Entertainment will be provided by "Lightning" and folksinger Bob Hardy. All faculty, staff and students are to be invited.

This Friday will be Tower Lake Day, held in conjunction with the Tower Lake Recreation and Programming Committee. From 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., the Tower Lake Recreation area will be open for canoe races, sailboat races, swimming, volleyball, food and drinks. At 12:30 p.m., the Jay Berry band will perform at the recretion area.

The Springfest "late nighter" begins at 9 p.m. Friday. Alpha Phi Omega casino night will be held in the Opapi Lounge of the University Center while other events take place outside the Center building.

From 1 to 3 a.m., the rock band "Prism" will play at the Hairpin "for those Springfesters who hate to see the party end."

AFL-CIO plans 4th retirement seminar

Advance planning for retirement and positive goals, both financial and realistic, are among the points to be discussed at the fourth AFL-CIO Community Services seminar to be conducted Thursday from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Any local resident, 45 years and over, may attend the seminar by calling 877-6786 for a reservation, the AFL-CIO sponsors said.

Guest speaker will be Eugne Verdu, director of Programs and Services for Older Persons at Belleville Area College.

Planning is the first step to getting ready for retirement, but actually doing something about it is the most important step by far, the sponsors said.

Meeting on drouth

George W. Greibenow, chairman of the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission, has announced the sponsoring of a regional symposium on the drouth in the Midwest as a featured program of the commission's 22nd quarterly meeting Wednesday.

The day-long symposium is to be held at St. Louis' Holiday Inn Riverfront and will feature speakers from Washington, D. C., and throughout the Midwest.

The drouth symposium, scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m., is expected to explore the range of issues facing industry and agriculture because of the water-short conditions.

Information and perspectives will be given on weather conditions, streamflows, groundwater and reservoir storage by federal officials, and on drouth planning by state planning officials from North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Missouri

PAUL ZIMMER

Paul Zimmer appointed to West Point

Paul Zimmer, a senior at Staunton High School, grandson of the Rev. and Mrs. Leroy Filby, 2328 Winters Drive, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zimmer, formerly of Granite City, has been appointed to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

A West Point cadetship is a full college scholarship culminating in a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission as an officer in the U.S. Army.

Congressman Paul F. Findley (R-20th district) nominated Zimmer to the academy.

Elks clinic for children Tuesday

A free children's evaluation clinic will be held from noon until 3 p.m. tomorrow by the Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 in cooperation with the Illinois Elks' Crippled Children's Commission. The program is designed to refer children to physicians when remedial problems are detected.

The clinic will be held in the Elks Lodge Building, 1320 Niedringhaus Ave., where an orthopedic surgeon from the University of Illinois Hospital, Chicago, will be in charge of examinations. Any child from newborn to 21 years of age may be taken to the clinic to be checked for any type of physical handicap, Elks officers said.

Talks on teachers' pact to be resumed in Venice

The Venice Board of Education accepted resignations and approved requisitions among its items of business last week.

The Rev. Richard H. Bailey, board president, conducted the regular business meeting and Wilbert Glasper served as secretary pro tem in the absence of Jack Tolliver.

A policy statement concerning assignment of teaching personnel to extra-curricular activities was discussed in the meeting and further explored during executive caucus.

Also in executive session, board members discussed contract negotiations with the American Federation of Teachers, Venice Local 965, whose two-year contract with Venice School District expires June 30.

Negotiations began April 28 and a second session is scheduled Wednesday night.

Concerning excurricular assignments of staff members, an issue which has faced the board previously, Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers said teachers who have been in charge of the school chorus, cheerleading, play directing and grade school coaching have asked to be relieved of these duties, creating problems in retaining these extracurricular programs.

Lock critic will speak

John C. Cunningham, a consulting engineer and an outspoken foe of improving Locks and Dam 26, will address the Piasa Palisades Group of the Sierra Club tonight at 7:30 at the First Presbyterian Church in Alton.

His topic will be "The Need for User Fees to Curb Long Tow Barge Technology and the Threat of the Proposed 1,200-foot Lock at Alton."

Cunningham's talk is described as a rebuttal to arguments made by various waterways interests to adopt S.712, jointly sponsored by Senators Adlai Stevenson and Charles Percy.

The Stevenson-Percy bill provides for one 1,200-foot lock and a new dam, replacing the existing smaller locks and present dam.

"Strong efforts are being mounted by the barge industry to speed up passage of the bill to create expanded navigation on the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers," tonight's speaker contends.

"Longer and deeper locks will encourage larger, longer and more environmentally destructive barge tows, deteriorating the quality of the rivers," he asserts.

The speaker received attention a year ago for his statements charging that massive barge delays at Alton were the results of Corps of Engineers negligence. "Barges at that time were held up due to Corps-expressed need to repair a damaged guide wall at the locks," he concludes.

Cunningham is an active Sierra Club member and has long been a participant in the L&D 26 controversy. He is formerly vice-chairman of the Eastern Missouri Group, Sierra Club, and chairman of that group's Upper Mississippi River Task Force.

Prior to adopting a strongly worded policy statement, the board agreed to distribute the statement to faculty members, asking for "input," Supt. Vickers said.

The resignation of Joe Willie Roberts was accepted form the post of school security officer. Roberts is the new Venice Township highway commissioner.

It was agreed to retain Johnny Jackson as security guard until the end of the current school term. Jackson was hired to replace Roberts during the latter's election campaign period.

Also accepted was the resignation of Mrs. Glenna A. Books, a teacher in the Trainable Mentally Handicapped (TMH) program, who is moving from this area.

Supt. Vickers commented thatwith the resignation of Mrs. Books and another teacher in the program, "Our district has lost two fine TMH teachers."

The board authorized the filing of an application to obtain the services of two custodial maintenance assistants and a maintenance man through the Manpower Development Ageney's CETA program.

Former members of the Venice School Board will be presentéd service plaques at the May 18 meeting, it was decided.

A time limit for submitting purchase requisitions for board approval was suggested by Board Member John Boushard, who said items being requested should be included in the meeting agenda, mailed to members, to permit time to review them rather than "coming up the night of a meeting."

The board, however, went ahead and approved current requisitions, amounting to $2,923 for the Title VII program and $1,025 for Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

A request from a Venice student to hold a dance in the school gymnasium should be submitted through the "usual" channels or by a class sponsor, board members agreed.

Students pick Cain as an able leader

Results of student government elections at SIUE were announced by the Student Activities Office on Friday. Twenty-two students were listed on the ballot in the May 4 and 5 voting, and the president of the student body for 1977-78 is Bret Cain, a senior from Bethalto.

Senators are: Linda Cook, a junior from East Alton; Jim Hipkiss, a junior from Belleville; Susan Zerjal of Jennings, Mo., a junior; and Deb Kohler of Bethalto, a freshman.

JOE WASHINGTON DIES

Joe Washington, 87, East St. Louis; a retired General Steel Industries chipper here, died Thursday at Christian Welfare Hospital. Survivors include his wife, two sons and a brother. Services are set for 2 p.m. today in an East St. Louis funeral home.

—Another woman hurt her toe when her thong-clad foot slipped into the generator belt.

—A child of four, playing 45 feet away, was struck in the head by a piece of wire that was picked up and thrown by a mower and ricocheted off a car.

Lawn and garden tractors and riding rotary mowers are generally easy to operate safely. You can prevent accidents with a heavy dose of good common sense.

Follow these safety tips and pass them along to others:

1. Read the owner's manual. Note all operating and safety instructions.

2. Know the controls and how to stop quickly.

3. Disengage the power to any attachment and stop the motor before leaving the seat. When mowing, give the rotary blade ample time to stop before dismounting.

4. Keep children out of the work area. Look behind you before backing up, and don't move until you're sure that no one is nearby.

5. Reduce speed when turning sharply and when working on slopes to prevent tipping.

6. When mowing with a garden tractor or riding rotary mower, plan to work up and down, rather than across, slopes if possible. You are much less likely to overturn. If the slope is too steep for safety, mow it by hand or plant ground cover.

7. Don't stop or start suddenly when going uphill or downhill.

8. When mowing, clear area of objects that might be picked up and thrown. Then watch out for hidden hazards — holes, roots, drain pipes and the like.

9. If you hit a rock or stump, stop and inspect the blade shaft for damage. A damaged blade could cause vibration and might even "let go."

10. Never put your foot to the ground while moving — there is much danger of the blade striking it.

'Young Years' registration

Registration for the 1977-78 year at St. Peters School for Young Years is currently under way.

Registration may be for two-day sessions on Tuesday and Thursdays, or three-day sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The times are 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. daily.

Children must be three years of age by Dec. 31, 1977.

The fee is $2.50 a day and application forms, medical blanks, plus parents handbooks are avialable at the church office, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, school leaders said.

More information may be obtained by calling the church office 877-1904, or Mrs. Judy Werths, the director, at 931-3762.

It's springtime

all over. Some you've talked to, and some not. But the whole atmosphere is exciting and enjoyable. It's a big part of CB.

Twenty-three Flipper Tails got themselves together last weekend and headed for Dover, Tenn. There was a one-day Jamboree in Dover and some of the folks around here are from Dover, so off they went.

From what we hear, they had a good time. They won a trophy for the club for the farthest-traveled club. Bass Hawk, one of the members of the club, was given a color TV.

So if you're near a CB jamboree or hear of one, go. You'll have a lot of fun and meet a lot of terrific people.

And by the way, there are three jamborees coming up in the near future. There will be one at Coffeen City Park, Coffeen, Ill., on May 22 from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m.

There will be one in Granite City on May 29, sponsored by the Flipper Tail CB Club at the Croatian Home, Madison.

There also will be one given by the Fudpucker CB Club June 3, 4 and 5 in Arnold, Mo. You all come out now, you hear?

assembly, as well as to GA members.

Also on the agenda will be a discussion of proposed changes in the agency's bylaws is recommended by an ad hoc by laws revision committee.

The Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency was designated in April 1976 as the official health planning and resource development agency for the bi-state metropolitan St. Louis area.

It serves St. Clair, Madison, Clinton and Monroe Counties in Illinois and St. Louis City, St. Louis County, St. Charles County, Jefferson County and Franklin County in Missouri.

The Health Systems Agency is governed by a 60-member board of directors made up of local residents, with representatives from each county in the region. It has a consumer majority.

The private, not-for-profit corporation receives it funding from the federal government.

Jobless

November 1974. While much better than the nine per cent jobless in May 1975, the seven per cent is called high for "this stage of economic expansion."

Employment rose by 548,000, reaching a new high of 90 million. The civilian labor force climbed by 220,000 in April to 96,700,000.

The ranks of long-term unemployed (15 or more weeks) dropped by 100,000 to 1,800,000.

Average hourly earnings for non-farm production workers were $5.14, up three cents from March and 36 cents more than in April 1976. Average weekly pay rose $1.08 during the month to $184.53 and is up $13.41 from a year ago.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BID
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
WATER MAIN EXTENSION TO SERVE 2ND ADDITION TO FOREMAN HEIGHTS SUBDIVISION

The President and Board of Trustees of the Mitchell Public Water District will receive sealed proposals for the Water Main Extension to serve "2nd Addition to Foreman Heights Subdivision" in their offices located at 745 East Chain of Rocks Road, Granite City, Illinois until 3:30 p.m., prevailing time, May 24, 1977 with bids received publicly opened and read at the Board Meeting at 7:30 p.m.

The "STANDARD SPECIFICATIONS FOR WATER AND SEWER MAIN CONSTRUCTION IN ILLINOIS", Second Edition, November 1973, shall govern.

Approximate quantities—910 Lin. Ft. 6" Asbestos Cement Water Main Pipe, 1 Fire Hydrant, valves and miscellaneous appurtenances necessary to provide a complete job.

Proposal forms and drawings are on file at the office of Mitchell Public Water District, 745 East Chain of Rocks, Road, Granite City, Illinois, and may be obtained from them upon payment of non-refundable deposit of $15.00.

All proposals must be accompanied by a bid bond, bank cashier's check, bank draft, or certified check for not less then 10 percent of the amount of the bid, or as provided in Section 2-7 of the "STANDARD SPECIFICATIONS FOR WATER AND SEWER MAIN CONSTRUCTION IN ILLINOIS", Second Edition, November 1973, to insure execution of a satisfactory contract and contract bond within ten (10) days after a notice of award is mailed to said bidder in case his bid is accepted by the Board of Trustees. No bid may be withdrawn subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Board of Trustees for a period of fifteen (15) days subsequent to the receiving and opening of said bids. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory contract bond in the total amount of the contract award.

The successful bidder will be required to pay not less than the prevailing rate of wages as determined in accordance with the Illinois Prevailing Wage Law to all laborers, mechanics, and other workmen employed in the construction of this project.

All proposals must be made on forms furnished by the Engineer.

The Mitchell Public Water District reserves the right to waive, or not to waive, any irregularities in the bids and to determine which is the lowest and best bid for the work.

By Order of the President and Board of Trustees of the Mitchell Public Water District

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION

TO: ERIC PETERSON (FATHER OF CHARLES PETERSON) 76-J-331 and to All Whom It May Concern:

Take notice that on the 4th day of May, 1977 a petition was filed under the Juvenile Court Act by State's Attorney in the Circuit Court of Madison County entitled 'In the interest of Charles Peterson, a minor', and that in Circuit courtroom at Edwardsville on the 26th day of May at the hour of 1:00, or as soon thereafter as this cause may be heard, an adjudicatory hearing will be held upon the petition to have the child declared to be a ward of the court under that Act. The court has authority in this proceeding to take from you the custody and guardianship of the minor, and to appoint a guardian with power to consent to adoption of the minor.

Now, unless you appear at the hearing and show cause against the petition, the petition may be taken for confessed as against you and each of you, and an order, judgment or decree entered.
